Granite City and Madison schools were closed Friday and Venice schools had no classes on Thursday or Friday. Parochial schools also were closed Thursday and Friday. While Granite City and Madison schools opened Thursday, they had no bus service and attendance was resumed.

An Appellate Court decision backing Madison County's efforts to construct sanitary sewers for Chouteau, Nameoki and Venice townships is being appealed to the Illinois Supreme Court at Springfield, if the court agrees, M. Joseph Hill, attorney for persons opposed to the sewer financing, said Saturday.

Hill said a motion for leave to appeal the appellate decision was mailed from the Granite City Post Office at 4:30 p.m. Friday to Springfield.

A copy of the motion also has been sent to Harry F. Hartman, attorney for the county government's special sewer committee, who will be given an opportunity to respond in writing to the Supreme Court before the court decides whether or not it will hear the case.

The court only accepts about 40 percent of the cases submitted for appeal, according to Hill.

He said this is the first significant challenge to the state's special service area legislation and he feels the court will want to hear it.

Under special service area legislation, the county has specified a large area of Chouteau and Nameoki Townships and a small part of Venice Township as Special Service Area Number One and plans to construct sanitary sewers to serve residents in that area.

The $5 million local share of the project would be financed by the sale of general obligation bonds which would be repaid by property taxes assessed against the property owners in that special service area.

The means of financing has been challenged by opponents, who say they would prefer the sale of revenue bonds repaid by user fees.

The sewer committee contends revenue bonds could not be sold without discounting them to make them more attractive to the bond buyers, which would make the cost prohibitive.

Greathouse on board

WALTER GREATHOUSE
Sanitary Board Member

Walter "Shang" Greathouse, 34 Riviera Drive, was appointed Monday to serve as the third Madison County trustee on the Metro-East Sanitary District board.

The appointment was made by Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer of Granite City during a special meeting of the County Board in Edwardsville at 10:30 a.m. Friday. The county board concurred unanimously in the appointment.

Greathouse is owner of Shang's Warehouse Liquor Co. in Ponton Beach. He was a candidate for the board of the former East Side Levee and Sanitary District in 1972. He withdrew from the race, however, prior to the primary election.

Hagnauer, in announcing the appointment, said, "I feel Greathouse is well qualified to serve in this post. First, he is a lifelong resident and is a businessman with a business in Ponton Beach. He knows the problems of this area and should do an outstanding job."

Madison County Board Member Louis Whitsell commented, "We are very happy Walter Greathouse was selected and I feel he will do a good job for us."

Two Granite City Steel trains collided and two ingot molds full of molten steel spilled in the snow, causing explosions which broke nearby windows. The resulting fire threatened to destroy the engine shown, which carried about 500 gallons of fuel. The engine was pushed from the tracks by the collision.

Employees are shown turning off all electrical and other systems in the train, in case the fire spread. The ladder at the far right is on one of the boxcars the engine was pulling. Firefighting efforts in 3-degree cold kept the damage to a minimum. Other scenes are on Page 20.

DRY AND LIQUID FERTILIZER will be stored and shipped from these three domed structures at left and three tanks at right which are still under construction. Triple T Inc., Vincennes, Ind., is building the $1.7 million facility at the southern end of the Tri-City Port area near the Granite City Locks. Each dome will have a capacity of 7,500 tons of dry fertilizer and the tanks will each hold 1,000,000 gallons of liquid. Still to be built are the conveyor systems which will be used to carry the fertilizer to and from barges in the canal over the levee to the storage area. The company expects its first shipments in early 1978.

Corn seen as more suitable for industrial alcohol than 'gasohol'

By ROBERT ESTILL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Use of corn or other cereal grains for industrial alcohol is a more economically feasible way of providing a new market for surplus grain than blending grain-produced alcohol with gasoline to make "gasohol."

That is the belief of Dwight Miller, assistant director of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's regional laboratory at Peoria.

Miller, who has conducted experiments with "gasohol," is among the experts who will testify this week at a Senate subcommittee hearing in Indianapolis on the potential of grain alcohol in motor fuels.

He will tell the committee that, for economic reasons, the grain is more likely to end up in perfumes, solvents, chemical raw materials and other products using industrial alcohol than it is in gasoline tanks of American cars and trucks.

"Gasohol" is nothing new. The Germans used it in World War II to fuel their military vehicles. Nebraska has been experimenting with it for several years.

But bumper grain crops, low grain prices and the rising costs of petroleum products are combining to create a resurgence of interest nationwide.

Congress has responded by including in the new farm bill provisions for studies on the use of agricultural commodities in industrial alcohols and fuel, and funds for four pilot plants to develop "gasohol."

"It is technically feasible to produce and use grain alcohol in a fuel," Miller said. "The differences of opinion occur when the actual costs are compared."

"Gasohol" is a mixture of nine parts gasoline with one part of alcohol made from corn or other grains.

Corn is commonly used because it is a high-volume crop with a high yield of the starch used to make the alcohol.

"It is the lowest cost cereal grain, and it produces the most alcohol per bushel (a bushel produces about 2.5 gallons of alcohol)," Miller said.

Widespread use of "gasohol" could make a considerable dent in the nation's grain surplus.

If the nation were to suddenly switch completely from gasoline to "gasohol," farmers could not grow enough corn to meet food and fuel needs, Miller said.

He estimated it would take about four billion bushels of corn — two-thirds the harvest expected this year — just to make enough "gasohol" to equal the amount of gasoline used.

But from a cost standpoint, that is not likely.

The published wholesale price of gasoline — the refinery price before taxes added at the pumps — is 77.5 cents a gallon, while 100-proof alcohol is $1.15 to $1.25 a gallon, Miller said.

Unless Arabs drive fuel prices "through the ceiling" or the government is willing to subsidize "gasohol," gasoline is still cheaper, he said.

Nor does Miller accept the arguments that "gasohol" produces better mileage or conserves energy.

Test results have been mixed, and Miller believes tests showing increased mileage are due more to variances in the vehicles (tuning, adjustments, etc.) than to the fuel used.

As for the energy question, Miller said more energy is used in transferring the corn and converting it to alcohol than is produced in the alcohol.

He does, however, see a future for grain in industrial alcohol because it is competitive in price with alcohol made from petroleum products or natural gas. Corn and grain prices have remained low, while petroleum products have gone up markedly.

The nation produces about 200 million gallons of industrial alcohol a year. At 2.5 gallons per bushel, that would take about 80 million bushels of grain if all industrial alcohol was fermented from grain, he said.

"An emergency or price hikes

More contracts at Olin Works

The Western Employees' Trades Council, consisting of six unions representing approximately 350 East Alton Olin Works hourly paid employees, has ratified a new three-year labor contract with Olin Corporation. A meeting was held Friday for signing of the agreement.

The contract is basically the same as those signed earlier by the company and International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers District No. 9 and International Chemical Workers Union Local No. 6.

The new contracts call for nine percent wage increases effective Dec. 1, 1977. There will be three percent wage increases on both Dec. 1, 1978, and Dec. 1, 1979, along with resumption of the cost-of-living allowance plan which has been in effect for the last two years.

The cost-of-living allowance plan provides for minimum allowances of at least 26 cents per hour in each of the last two years of the contract, and a maximum allowance of 35 cents per hour, in addition to the three percent increases. By the time the contracts expire Dec. 1, 1980, the cost-of-living allowance will be providing an additional 40 cents per hour and possibly 70 cents per hour, it was explained.

The new agreements also provide for improvements in group life insurance, hospital-medical insurance programs and the pension plan, and include a new dental insurance program identical to the one provided salaried employees earlier this year.

Members of Electricians and Pipefitters unions rejected the contract proposals and have been picketing Olin Works plant entrances since midnight Nov. 30.

Negotiations with the United Steelworkers, representing Olin Works guards and firemen, have not started. The contract between the company and the Steelworkers does not expire until Feb. 1, 1978.

Toffant, Vincent file for sheriff

Emil J. Toffant of Madison and Michael R. Vincent of Granite City filed petitions as Democratic candidates for nomination as sheriff at the filing period for the March 21 primary election opened this morning.

Only one other candidate for county office filed petitions during the opening rush — County Clerk Evelyn Bowles, who will seek re-election to her present post.

Toffant and Vincent filed within two minutes of one another, a factor that will result in a drawing at 5 p.m. today to determine which of them shall be given first place on the ballot.

The county clerk's office said that customarily candidates' names go on the ballot in the order of filing, but when two candidates file on the same day for the same office a drawing is held to determine placement on the ballot.

The filing period opened at 9 a.m. today at Miss Bowles' office and will continue during regular hours daily until 5 p.m. next Monday, Dec. 19.

Miss Bowles said a heavy rush of candidates for precinct committeemen posts marked the opening hours of the filing period this morning.

They included William Webb
of District 19 in Granite City;
Louis Whiteall of District 26 in Nameoki Township and Walter
"Dick" Sparks of District 16 in Chouteau Township.

Four county offices are open to election in next year's March 21 primary — sheriff, county clerk, treasurer and superintendent of the educational service region.

Fifteen of the 26 County Board districts will elect members, six of them in the Quad-City area.
Precinct committeemen are elected in the primary by both the Democratic and Republican parties.

Floyd David Moss, president of the Pontoon Beach Village Board, announced this morning that he is a candidate for Democratic precinct committeeman in Nameoki Precinct One. He said he was unable to file his petitions this morning, but would file later today.

Mrs. Beedle, 65, dies today
Mrs. Beulah (King) Beedle, 65, of 3088 Wayne Ave., died at 8:30 a.m. today at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Born in Staunton, Ill., she resided in Granite City 30 years.

Mrs. Beedle was employed for 18 years as a clerk at Granite City Steel and retired four years ago.

Mrs. Martin, dies at 52
Mrs. Josephine Martin, 52, of 701 Kirkpatrick Homes, died at 2:15 a.m. today at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

She was born and resided in St. Louis until moving to this area five years ago.

Survivors include her husband, Claude Martin; four sons, Melvin E. Martin of Collinsville, Richard Martin of Madison, Claude Martin of Granite City and Jerry Coons of Milwaukee, Ill.; two daughters,
Mrs. Michael (Betty Ann)
Parks, Collinsville, Miss Carolyn Weller of St. Louis; and six grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

"We have a basket full of them. We were inundated with precinct committee candidates when we opened," she said.

Three incumbent County Board members of the Quad-City area were among those filing nominating petitions as candidates for re-election to the County Board.

They included William Webb
of District 19 in Granite City;
Louis Whiteall of District 26 in Nameoki Township and Walter
"Dick" Sparks of District 16 in

News notes

A new way of detecting breast cancer without radiation or surgery is being called safe and effective by the Memorial-Sloan Kettering Cancer Center in New York. Graphic stress telethermometry is to be given after tests.

After week-end tractor rallies at state capitols, farmers across the nation have indicated they will strike starting Wednesday in an effort to obtain full price parity for their products.

Some plan to stop buying farm equipment and supplies, and stop selling food and other commodities. Agriculture Secretary Robert Bergland voiced concern Sunday over the potential impact on consumers and on nations that import U.S. food.

Former State's Attorney Dick
H. Mudge Jr. last week endorsed electing the county board chairman on a county-wide basis, as a means of reducing the power of the office, now filled by the votes of county board members. Chairman Nelson Hagmann attributed the at-large election proposal to "frustrated people who got beat in elections" and said such a change could not be completed for at least three years.

George A. Stinson, chairman of National Steel Corporation, Pittsburgh, has been nominated by the Ralston Purina management for election next month to Ralston's board of directors.

Former Governor Daniel Walker and his wife, Roberta, have separated and will seek divorce. Mar 1 problems are cited as a key reason in his decision not to run for public office this year.

Boothman names replacement as election judge
Madison County Board Member Homer Boothman of State Park Place has appointed Myrabel as an election
judge, replacing his wife, Katherine, as a judge in Nameoki Township Precinct
Four.

Boothman first selected his wife as one of two Democratic judges in that precinct, although her name was not among those submitted by precinct committeemen.

Democratic Pct. 4 Committeemen James Counts objected and filed a suit in Madison County Circuit Court asking that Mrs. Boothman's appointment be nullified by the court, since it did not comply with a law requiring the judge to be appointed from the names the committeemen submit.

Associate Judge John Day agreed with Counts and ordered the appointment voided.

Joseph Bleir, 104, dies

Joseph Bleir, 104 years old, a resident of Granite City for nearly 60 years, died at 4 p.m.
Sunday at a hospital in Breesne, Ill.

Mr. Bleir had lived at the Breesne Nursing Home for the past 18 months and was a patient at an Alton hospital for three years previously.

He had made his home in Granite City since 1916, and attended the First United Presbyterian Church here.

Although Mr. Bleir's official age is listed at 104, it is believed he was 114 years old in actuality, having fastidied his age about the turn of the century.

Mr. Bleir left his native Syria as a youth after he acquired five wives, purchased for him by his adoptive parents, a not uncommon practice in the ancient East-Mediterranean country.

He objected to the arrangement and stowed away on board a ship, eventually traveling to Mexico, where he remained for some years.

He married a Mexican native and became the father of a daughter.

Mr. Bleir left Mexico and came to the United States, arriving in Granite City in 1916.
A stranger here with no ties, friends nor money, Mr. Bleir made his first home inside the Granite City Steel plant, eating food given to him by the workmen, or taken without their knowledge from lunch pails.

A short time later he was employed by Granite City Steel and remained with the firm nearly three decades before retiring.

He has no known survivors, but considered the Hudson family of Granite City as his closest friends.

Available information concerning the funeral arrangements is given in today's obituary column.

National Steel— '78 encouraging

National Steel Corp. will show a profit on its 1977 fourth-quarter steel operations and for 1978 sees "encouraging signs" that steel orders will rise, Chairman George A. Stinson said today. The firm owns Granite City Steel.

Strikes affecting coal and iron ore production have reduced earnings in recent weeks. U.S.
Steel Corp. said Thursday it expects to lose money on its fourth-quarter steel activity.

National Steel's shipments will be "modestly ahead" of the 1976 fourth quarter, when they totalled 1,800,000 tons.

Stinson said the dividend won't be cut, and he noted improvement in order levels in recent weeks.

If imports are reduced there could be a strong market in 1978, he said, adding that unless the federal government's reference price plan brings a "meaningful" drop in imports in the second quarter, it won't succeed.

Hearings scheduled on area projects
Madison County residents interested in the future of the Quad-City area will have their choice of public hearings to attend Thursday night.

The Madison County Planning Commission will hold a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Granite City Hall to discuss land use problems, goals, objectives and policies.

The hearing will concentrate on planning in the Quad-City area.
The Madison County Community Development office will hold a public hearing starting at 7 p.m. Thursday in the county board room of the County Courthouse at Edwardsville to discuss applications for community development grant funds.

The meeting will seek to achieve final public approval of the county's application, which is to be submitted to the Madison County Board Wednesday, Dec. 21, for final approval.

Applications from this area to be discussed include $550,000 for Granite City's overpass project, $125,000 for a Madison shopping mall, $120,000 for Nameoki Township to renovate State Park Place, $110,000 for Pontoon Beach street improvements, and $23,000 for Venice Township to improve parks in Eagle Park Acres.

Also under consideration are $100,000 for Venice's housing rehabilitation program and $34,000 for Venice to build a senior citizen center, $30,000 for Chouteau Township to help fund a subdivision, and $137,000 to aid Chouteau residents tap into proposed sanitary sewers.

$35,000 for Venice township to improve neighborhoods in the Benjamin Addition, and $22,000 for Nameoki Township to tear down structures and clean up lots in Cloverleaf and Eagle Park.

Three projects awaiting approval from the Community Development office include a $100,000 project for Madison to aid industry in expanding and providing more low-income jobs, $80,000 for Granite City to upgrade the Bratcliff, North Granite City and northern tip of the city, and a district-wide economic development project which has not been completed.

EXTRA POSTAL HOUR
The Venice Office, 416 Broadway, will extend its regular hours on Saturday, Dec.
17.

Usual hours for Saturday are from 8:30 to 11 a.m. This Saturday the office will remain open until noon. The Granite City and Madison offices will operate on their usual schedules.

Ask court
While the tax in the special service area would be higher in the first year, it would be reduced considerably over the 15-year period for retiring the bonds and could go still lower as the sewers attract growth to the area.

One of the points raised by objectors is that taxation for new sewers would be applied to a few persons, particularly along Pine Street, already served by Granite City sanitary sewers.

"This is just one area where we feel the Appellate Court decision was inadequate," Hill said.

"He had until Thursday, Dec.
10, filed the petition for leave to appeal."

He said he would like to see the issue resolved as soon as possible, and filed the petition as quickly as it was completed.

Without electric energy, there'd still be jobs.

But most jobs would be hard hand labor, the way they used to be. Workers could produce only a fraction of what they produce with electric power. And paychecks would be much smaller, the way they used to be in
"the good old days."

Most of today's jobs are better, more productive and better paying because of electric energy.

Many of today's jobs couldn't exist at all without electricity.

It's time we all stopped taking electric energy for granted. It's the stuff good jobs are made of.

If electricity is to continue providing the energy for more and better jobs, it will be because utility companies continue as healthy enterprises with the ability to make the large investment it takes to grow with their customers. With wise use of today's energy—plus realistic planning for future needs—electric energy will continue to make jobs and living better for generations to come.

Questionnaire lack can halt VA checks

The Veterans Administration has announced that 700,000 of the veterans and dependents who receive VA pensions have not responded to the required income questionnaire sent out in November.

W. D. Bush, director of the VA's data processing center at Hines, Ill., said the questionnaires were enclosed with the Nov. 1 check, and must be returned by Dec. 31 if recipients are to continue to receive their benefits.

Pension payments are made on the first day following the end of a month, and those who have not responded will not receive a check on Feb. 1.

Unlike compensation for service-connected disability, pension payments are based on the amount of income a veteran or beneficiary receives, and must be computed each year.

Certain older veterans are exempt from filing the questionnaire, but all persons who received the form in their November check must fill it out and return it.

Bush pointed out that 1,267,887 persons are required to return the questionnaire, and that only 27 percent had responded. He urged pensioners who have not returned their questionnaires to do so immediately to assure that their checks will arrive on time in 1978.

FIRE INSIDE CAR
Joe Grindstaff, 2540 Parkview Drive, Apt. 6, parked his auto in front of his apartment building at 2 p.m. Friday and looked out the window one-half hour later to see the inside of the windows had been blackened. He investigated to find a large hole had been burned in the right bucket seat and there was extensive smoke damage to the car's interior. The cause is not known, but Grindstaff suspects vandals set the fire.

Bullet passes through GC man's head; another arrested

Charles T. Wofford, 33, of 2224 Bryan Ave., has been charged with unlawful use of a weapon after an alleged fight over a gun at 1:15 a.m. Friday ended with Terry L. Singler, 32, of 2046 E. 23rd St., suffering a gunshot wound to his right temple.

Although a .38-caliber bullet passed through his head, Singler is reported to be recovering at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

He first was brought to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where his signs of life were considered very weak. But he responded to emergency treatment and his condition had improved when he was taken to the St. Louis hospital, sources indicated. It is alleged Singler and Wofford had an argument in the Moose Club, 19th and Adams streets, and that it continued in the parking lot after the club closed.

A witness said he saw two men struggling in the lot, saw three flashes and heard three shots, and then saw a man on the ground. Police were called and found a .38-caliber revolver about six inches from Singler's right upper arm. He was bleeding from the head and a Granite City ambulance took him to the hospital.

Wofford said he and Singler were in a fistfight when Singler is alleged to have pulled the gun out of his clothing.

The two men struggled over the gun and it fired three times during the altercation, one shot striking Singler's right temple. Police noticed that the gun contained three live cartridges and three spent shells.

A small pocketknife was found about five feet away from where the altercation occurred, but investigators do not believe the knife has any connection with the fight.

Wofford was released from custody at 5:15 p.m. Friday after posting a $1,000 cash bond.

Social Security benefit estimates if age 56, older

Do you wonder what your Social Security check will be? A new free service offered by the Social Security Administration lets more persons get a retirement estimate before age 65.

"If you're 56 or older and fully insured under Social Security, you can get a benefit estimate," a spokesman points out. "Fill out a request for statement of earnings (Form 7004), show on the form you want a benefit estimate, and mail it to the nearest Social Security office."

"Social Security will send you a statement that shows the total earnings credited to your record, the quarters of coverage you've earned, and an estimate of your benefit at age 65."

"The actual benefit you get at 65 will probably be higher than the estimated amount because the estimate is based only on your earnings to the present time."

"Additional earnings later will be considered in figuring your exact benefit. In addition, cost-of-living increases would raise the amount."

"You can get the Request for Statement of Earnings Form free of charge at any Social Security office."

Prevent children's holiday frustration

The Christmas and Chanukah seasons can become merely gift-giving, or even frustrating, experiences for children unless parents take steps to properly teach them and include them in party preparations and celebrations.

"Too often, a child is made to feel left out as adults get caught up in the seasonal shopping, gift-wrapping and parties," Mary Elizabeth Reeves, Ed.D., child psychologist at the University of Illinois at the Medical Center, Chicago, said today.

"By nature, children are curious and spontaneous. They only lose these qualities when discouraged by adults."

Dr. Reeves emphasized the importance of allowing children to participate at their own level when it comes to such activities as making and putting up decorations and preparing holiday food.

"Even a 2½-year-old would be delighted to help mommy stir the cookie batter," she remarked.

On the holiday itself, "Include children in the party preparations. Ask them to set the table, for example. Or, if they are very young, at least allow them to carry non-breakable items such as the napkins or silverware to the table." Above all, parents should not make a habit of shooting the children into another part of the house when the relatives come to visit.

"The holidays are meant to be a time of family togetherness. Rather than sending children out of the living room into the recreational or TV room, encourage them to spend the holiday with the adults so that they feel a part of the family," Dr. Reeves urged.

She added that parents should teach their children the real meaning of the holidays, including the historical and religious significance, well in advance of the season.

"Children will learn quickly enough from their playmates about all the commercial aspects of the holidays."

"Even a quite young child can be told in simple terms that the Yuletide and Chanukah holidays are special time of year because families join together to share their love and blessings."

"In fact, small children actually understand the concept of togetherness better than we think," Dr. Reeves said.

"By the time an infant is about six months old, it begins to realize that it is not a part of mother; rather, mother can go away," Dr. Reeves continued.

"At this point, the infant fears separation from the mother and will often cry when she is gone no matter how loving the aunt caring for the child."

For these children, happiness is being together with the parents.

As far as gift-giving is concerned, Dr. Reeves suggested that parents and other family members not go overboard in buying gifts too expensive or too advanced for the child to appreciate. Toys should be appropriate to the child's age, she stressed.

She added that "there is such a thing as too many gifts. A child should not be showered with so many toys that they are all old to him in a month."

"The wise parents of a child who receives too many toys from family members will put some of them away."

"That's so, if a few months after the holidays a child tires of the toys he or she has, mother can then bring out some of the toys she had put away."

FOOTPRINTS FOLLOWED

A rear bedroom storm window was removed and the unlocked window opened to gain entry to the home of Jim Rokita, 2726 Dale Ave., between 3 and 7 p.m. Thursday. Several items were gathered into a cardboard box, but were left on the floor. It is not known if anything was stolen. Police followed footprints in the snow to two nearby houses and questioned residents, but no arrests were made, pending additional investigation.

Farmers take stand on school taxes, exports, price patterns

The Illinois Farm Bureau has voted to support legislation allowing — after local voter approval — a school district income tax.

Authority to call a referendum for such a tax should be vested either in the local board of education or by petition of voters within the school district, according to a policy position on state and local revenue adopted by the Farm Bureau's 422 voting delegates. Adoption of policies on a wide range of public and agricultural issues was a final order of business of the farm organization's 63rd annual meeting this month.

In regard to a school district income tax, delegates said a reasonable portion of the revenues generated from such a tax should be used for replacement of existing property taxes for educational purposes.

They reaffirmed the Farm Bureau's policy that the overall tax structure for state and local governments in Illinois should include a state income tax, a moderate local real property tax, sales tax, motor fuel tax, and other special taxes.

Major emphasis should be placed on the income tax as a means to reduce real estate taxes and as a source of additional revenue, delegates agreed.

The farm organization delegates hammered out policies on a variety of issues — ranging from gaining a greater voice among governmental agencies, to preventing buildup of surplus milk products. Efforts to re-establish service to agriculture as the primary purpose of the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) was called for by the delegates.

"In the past, the Department of Agriculture has had service to agriculture as its basic purpose. In the past few months, it is apparent that this purpose has changed, as more emphasis has been placed upon consumer representation," the Farm Bureau delegate body said.

"Consumer prices and other consumer concerns have taken precedence over major agricultural problems, such as agricultural exports and low farm prices and incomes."

In the same policy resolution, delegates also voted to support continued and strengthened involvement of local elected committees and councils for USDA agencies operating at the county or multi-county level.

Farm Bureau delegates also supported legislation to give farmers greater representation in the decision-making of another government agency — the Food and Drug Administration (FDA). The agency proposed bans on the therapeutic use of penicillin, tetracyclines, and other feed additives during the past year.

"In many cases, it would appear that the economic interests of farmers received little consideration in decisions made by the FDA," it is asserted.

The Farm Bureau seeks legislation to require the FDA prepare and publish an agricultural economic impact statement on proposed regulations which would affect producers, in advance of the final rule-making. The delegates also called for establishment of the office of assistant FDA director, which would represent agricultural interests in the preparation and administration of FDA regulations and rulings.

On the issue of farmland ownership, the Farm Bureau said it supports state and national programs which encourage and facilitate the ownership of farmland by farmers and others who have a direct interest in agriculture. It opposes tax advantages or other incentives which encourage non-farm interests, including non-family corporations and pension fund managers, to speculate or invest in farmland.

The delegates voted in support of legislation to cause disclosure to be made of the ownership of farmland by alien, and to study the impact of such ownership on American farmers. In a policy stand on milk price supports, the delegates recommended steps to hold down a buildup of surplus milk stocks.

They urged that the price support for manufacturing milk be at a level which encourages the consumption of dairy products and permits dairy products to compete in the market, and which will not encourage the accumulation of surplus dairy stocks.

A multi-faceted resolution to moderate the rapidly increasing cost of unemployment compensation taxes — which farmers pay either directly or through increased cost of production supplies they buy — and to remove abuses in this area was also approved by the delegates.

The Farm Bureau voted to seek new uses for agricultural products through additional research and development. New crop alternatives for the Midwest should also be explored and evaluated, the farm organization delegate urged.

County Appeals Board to recommend use permits

The Madison County Board will be asked at its Dec. 21 meeting to approve two requests for special permits place mobile homes, one variance to build a church in flood hazard area, and a rezoning and variance from setback requirements, all in Quad-City area townships.

The County Board will act on recommendations from the Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals which conducted on-site public hearings on the properties before issuing recommendations.

The zoning board recommends granting a rezoning from an agricultural district to a R-1 residential district for Flora Mouser and Sam Campbell "on lands adjoining the apartment complex" in "the east half of section 12," in Nameoki Township, according to zoning records. Also recommended is a variance in the front and rear setback requirements, due to the irregular shape of the lots.

Also recommended is a variance for Raymond Penn and the Church of Christ to construct a church building and classroom facilities along Maryville Road north of the City Temple which is designated as a flood hazard area. Nameoki Township, an R-3 family residential district.

Requ for special use permits the placement of home also are recommended with stipulations.

Donald Deppe is requesting a permit to place a 14 by 70 foot home near 5021 Lakeview Drive, in an R-4 single-family residential district of Chouteau Township.

Recommended stipulations are that the permit be for the duration of the lifetime of Mrs. Donald A. Deppe and the sole occupancy of that family and that it should be removed as soon as the need for it has expired.

Robert Skinner, Richard L. Wilkinson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Hinkle are requesting a permit to place a 20 by 40 foot home on Chouteau Island, in an agricultural district of Venice Township.

A variance to build in a flood hazard area also is recommended. Stipulations suggested are that the permit be granted for up to five years and for the sole use of the Charles Hinkle family.

It also is stipulated that the unit be removed when no longer needed and that all requirements for placing a mobile home in a flood-hazard area be observed.

Snow news is good news for shrubbery

By WAYNE D. SIEPERT
Area Adviser, Horticulture
A blanket of snow is good news to shrubs and trees. It may be the only news to magnolias, evergreen azaleas, holly and pyrancanthas that barely survived during last winter's cold snap.

Snow is one kind of mulch that insulates the soil to prevent deep freezing of the soil.
A blanket of leaves or a layer of wood chips, grass clippings or partly composted garden trash is just as effective as a continuous blanket of snow.

Last winter, the snow protected the roots and low branches from severe cold, but the tops of these plants were damaged. Providing a wind-break around these recovering plants will help them to escape the threat of another cold winter.

Where relatively small plants are involved, construct a homemade windbreak. Drive stakes, or fence posts, near the plants to create a triangle or a box.

Fasten heavy opaque plastic, or burlap around the posts to create a wind shield.

Have the shield extend a foot or more above the top of the plant. Do not permit the wrapping to touch the leaves or twigs.

If you build the box, leave a 1/2-inch crack around the base to provide ventilation on warm days. Do not cover the top.

The shield is intended to break the wind and provide some shade on bright, sunny days.

When trees and shrubs are too tall for a practical wind shield, there isn't much you can do.
Rely on the mulch, fall fertilizing and delayed pruning until spring.

Excess foliage and sucker-growth live to create a wind break that protects each other.
Next spring, prune to remove the suckers and make necessary repairs.

Benefit concert for 'Steel City Belles'

Granite High School North
Pom-Pom Squad, the "Steel City Belles," will give a special fundraising concert on Saturday, Dec. 17, at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Auditorium.

The present set of uniforms are in their fifth season of use, and even though the members of the squad take exceptional care of their uniforms and restrict their use to performances only, the normal wear is taking its toll," commented director Robert D.
Todoroff.

The benefit concert is entitled
"An Evening with the Steel City Belles" and will include live music furnished by the Granite High North Pep Band, and a special guest appearance by
"The North Guard Flags and Rifles" in routine performances with equipment.

The hour-long program will showcase a variety of routines by the national award winning "Belles" in both pom-pom and dance routines.

A highlight of the evening will be the introduction of graduated former "Steel City Belles" who will be present for the occasion.
Tickets for the benefit concert are available from Pom-Pom Squad members or from members of the North Guard Flag and Rifle Squads.

Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for students. "We are hoping that the good will and service extended not only to the school, but throughout the community and area, will generate a supported response to our efforts to provide the squad with new uniforms," Todoroff added.

Extra dividend at First GC National

P. H. Lichtenberger, chairman of the First Granite City National Bank, today announced that the directors have declared an extra dividend of 50 cents per share, payable Dec. 15 along with the regular quarterly dividend of 40 cents per share.
This will make a total distribution of $2.20 in 1977, compared with $2 in 1976.
"As of Nov. 30, 1977, total assets had increased $7,000,000 over the year-earlier figure, indicating continued and growing acceptance of First Bank services by our friends and neighbors in the Quad-City area.

"Subject to final audit, we are anticipating an increase of approximately 15 percent in net profits for the year," Lichtenberger commented.

Durbin assails O'Neal on mined land program

A candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, Richard Durbin, on Friday called on his prospective opponent, Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal, to fulfill statutory duties involving the state's mine reclamation program.

Durbin cited allegations that the state's mine clean-up program "has sputtered to a halt" under O'Neal.

Despite a state law requiring quarterly meetings of the council, Chairman O'Neal has failed to call a meeting since Aug. 2, more than four months ago, Durbin said, adding:

"The lieutenant governor has only two major statutory functions, and O'Neal apparently is unable to perform them as required by law."

"If he spent more time on state business and less time making political appearances for the governor, Illinois could give proper attention to the critical need for mined-land reclamation and subsidence programs."

Durbin blamed O'Neal for allowing $1.5 million in reclamation funds last year to lapse back into the treasury "because he lacked a program to begin cleaning up the hundreds of strip and shaft mines around Illinois."

"There are reports of sever mine subsidence, pollution and acid run-off throughout the state, particularly in Southern Illinois.

"But the man in charge of doing something to combat this terrible environmental hazard apparently is too preoccupied with other concerns to fulfill his statutory assignment."

"This is especially puzzling considering that O'Neal's assistant campaign manager was paid $2,000 a month for several months to advise the lieutenant governor on the 'legal ramifications' of his duties as chairman of the council and other statutory responsibilities."

O'Neal's failure to convene the council, his delay in developing a comprehensive program, and his allowing the $1.5 million in funds to lapse were recommended for reclamation projects in Downstate Illinois: Fulton, Jackson, Madison, Macoupin, Randolph, St. Clair, Saline, Williamson and Will.

Enrollment day will be Tuesday at the Wilson Park office for a new class to be added to the Pre-School Program, sponsored by the Granite City Park District.

Thirty-five children will be accepted Tuesday, between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., who have attained the age of 4 years before Feb. 1, 1978.

A child's birth certificate, along with proof of residence, is required at the time of registration.

There is no charge for the Pre-School Program except for the required insurance of $2 and a 35-cent fee each day for juice and cookies.

Children presently attending the classes are not required to register again. Current students are automatically enrolled and will attend until the winter-spring session is over in April.

Registration for summer classes will take place in May. Further information may be obtained by calling the Wilson Park office at 877-3069.

reported extremely light, resulting in a decision to close those schools on Friday.

While highways were cleared and the middle of last week, following a 3.5-inch snowfall, and a cold wave earlier in the week, side streets remained ice-coated and hazardous.

Moderating temperatures during the weekend improved driving conditions by Sunday afternoon and weather forecasts indicated that most of the ice and snow will be eliminated.

The National Weather Service said this morning that temperatures are expected to reach a high in the mid to upper 40s today, with a low tonight in the upper 30s to low 40s. The high tomorrow may reach 45 to 50, the weather service said. There is a chance of showers Tuesday.

The icy and slippery streets contributed to a high number of accidents in Granite City between Thursday and Sunday with Friday being the worst day for accidents since the bad weather began a week ago.

Thursday, Granite City police uncovered 10 accident calls, but Friday there were 26 accidents on the ice-covered city streets. The number dropped to 14 on Saturday and, as the roads began to clear, crash spots were blamed for only five accidents Sunday.

Among the accidents Saturday was a five-car chain-reaction accident on ice on Madison Avenue at 18th Street. The northbound auto of Edward Damrath, Rural Route 20, Box 708A, Granite City, skidded into the rear of the chain, in succession, were the autos of Charles Stallings, Centerville, Geneva Felker, 2601 E. 27th St., Rebecca Narvaez, 1519 Market St., and Linda Lumpkin, 4122 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach.

Five persons were treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital Thursday as the result of auto accidents. Ten others were injured in falls on ice and three were admitted. The hospital also treated two persons after their car batteries exploded while being connected to another battery to aid their cars in starting. Both were released after treatment.

Among those treated Thursday after auto accidents was Debra Carr, 19, of 18 Tulip Ave., Pontoon Beach, who said her car slid into the rear of another car. She was admitted for observation after x-rays were taken.

Bryan Lucas, 12, Florissant, Mo., also was admitted for observation of chest pains after a car in which he was a passenger was involved in an accident.

Mrs. Dana Judge, 20, of 2654 Adams St., was treated and released after the auto in which she was a passenger was struck from behind, injuring her neck and back.

Shawn Martin, 3, of 3639 Grand, also a passenger in a car which was struck from behind, was examined and released. His mother, Rhonda Martin, was treated for neck and back pains and was released.

Friday accidents included one involving a Granite City ambulance, driven by William Worthe, 2811 Lincoln Ave.

The ambulance and the car of Donald Birt, Ponton, Mo., were involved in an accident at Madison Avenue and Nameoki Road at a red light. Minor damage was reported.

Two police cars also sustained minor damage in separate skids on ice in the alley south of the 2600 block of Madison Avenue Sunday afternoon, one hitting a fence and the other bumping a post.

Peggy Rodgers, 26, of 2209 E. 25th St., was treated at the hospital at 11:40 a.m. Friday after her auto was struck from behind. A neck strain was diagnosed and she was released after x-rays were taken.

Also treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital Sunday was Michael MacMillan, 26, of 2331 E. 25th St., who said he was seated in a stopped car which was struck from behind about noon. He was treated for a neck strain and was released.

Two young women from Missouri were injured when their van went out of control on a patch of ice and damaged five parked cars and a utility pole at Maddox Motors on Route 203 (Nameoki Road) about 75 feet south of North Street at 1:40 a.m. today. The driver, Sharon Alsbach, 19, Clayton, Mo., said the van was northbound, hit ice and spun out of control. The van then struck two used cars in a line of cars on the Maddox lot and struck a utility pole, breaking the pole off at its base. Flying debris damaged three other parked cars on the used car lot.

The driver was taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was treated for a large cut to her right side and injuries to her right hip and left shoulder. She was transferred to Jewish Hospital, St. Louis.

Judy Webb, 22, St. Louis, a passenger in the van, later was taken by friends to St. Elizabeth Hospital where she was treated for a cut to the right side of her head and an abrasion to her right thigh. X-rays were taken and she was released.

Ellerman on metropolitan hospital board

St. Elizabeth Hospital Executive Vice-President Ted Ellerman was elected to the Board of the Metropolitan Hospital Association last week.

He will join 15 other board members in serving a three-year term.

The Hospital Association of Metropolitan St. Louis is a voluntary, not-for-profit organization of hospitals in the bi-state area.

The association's primary mission is to assist hospitals in serving the people of their community in the most efficient and economical manner possible.

Association activities cover all aspects of hospital operation and management, including planning, cost-finding, education, governmental relations, professional services and the operation of extensive shared service programs.

Ellerman has represented St. Elizabeth Hospital in membership in the association for three years.

Breaks leg in accident

Larry Tinker, 21, of 2908 Indiana Ave., suffered a broken left leg and injuries to his back and left thigh when his auto struck the guard rail protecting the crossing gate at Niedringhaus Avenue and the Terminal Railroad Association tracks at 2:10 a.m. Monday.

Tinker said another auto forced him off the road and into the rail. He was taken by Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital and was transferred to Firms Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

Jan. 4 deadline for pleadings

Pleadings in a Circuit Court proceedings in which Robert Eastern, East St. Louis member of the Metro-East Sanitary District, is challenging the legality of the appointment of a third Madison County member of the board, were being prepared today for filing by Jan. 4.

Circuit Judge Richard Goldenbersh at Belleville enjoined the sanitary district board from removing Eastern from the board until a hearing can be held on a suit by Eastern charging a law providing for majority control of the board on the basis of property assessments.

His ruling provided that pleadings in the case may be filed within 30 days, or by Jan. 4. Judge Goldenbersh's order restrains Madison County member of the board, Walter "Shang" Greathouse, who was appointed by Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer Friday.

A Gift for the CHILD

On that first Christmas, so long ago, came strangers bearing gifts for the wondrous Child. And thus began our warm tradition of holiday giving.

This year, we are trying to relive the spirit of that first Christmas. We have asked our employees to imagine the Christ Child has been born this Christmas. We asked them to present a Gift for the Child. A gift, created or bought, that shows the depth of their feeling at the coming of this miracle.

These gifts will be on display beneath our lobby Christmas tree. You will be surprised at the ingenuity, variety and exquisite beauty of their selections.

And, just in time for Christmas, these gifts will be distributed among the less fortunate children in the Tri-Cities by the Salvation Army.

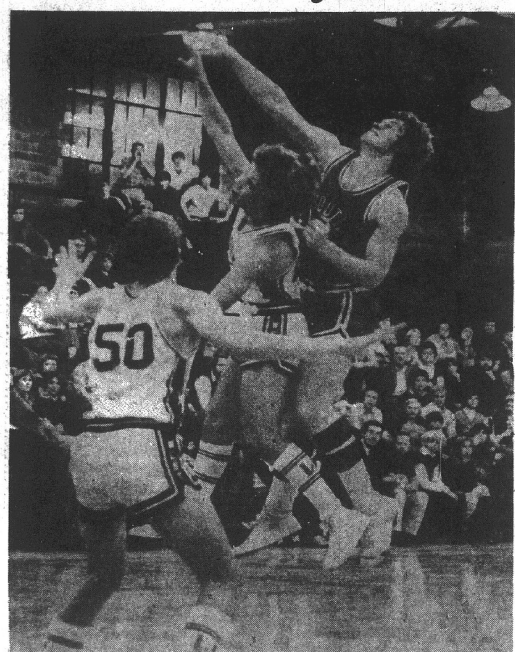

And if you would like to submit a gift, we will display it underneath our tree as your token of the true revival of the holiday spirit.

Warriors fall short in final ticks, 44-43

"It was a very rough game. At times, I thought they were wiping up blood instead of sweat, off of the floor," commented Head Coach Roger Mueller of Belleville West Saturday night. His Maroons had just handed the Granite City South Warriors their first defeat of the season, in Belleville, 44-43.

The story of the game was shooting... or the lack of it. "We just didn't put the ball in the hoop, and that's the name of the game," said South mentor Don Deterding. "We beat them in every other way except shooting... and that's where the points come from."

South's Terry Angle and the Maroons' Greg Sonnenberg were the main attraction of the night. Going at each other furiously all night, they set the tempo for the rest of the players.

"It was one of the most physical games I've ever seen," said Deterding. "It was more like a football game than a basketball game."

Angle and Sonnenberg faced each other at center court for the opening tipoff. South won the tip, but West got the ball. Sonnenberg scored the first basket of the game.

The action was fast and furious at each end of the court during the first period. The ball traveled back and forth so many times, it seemed as if a tennis match were in progress. But the ball only went through the hoop nine times. The score at the end of that period was 9-8, South.

Jeff Tretter grabbed the second quarter tap and raced for the basket. He put the Warriors in front, 11-8, with only five seconds having ticked off the clock.

But the Maroons got things going their way during the period and the first half ended with West hanging on to a slender 17-16 lead.

WHY such a low score at halftime? "I'd say a combination of our good defense and our inability to get the shots to drop," said Deterding. "I could've been prouder of our defense. But our shooting was way off."

"There was a span there in the second quarter that we put up shots that didn't hit ANYTHING. I'm talking about the rim, the backboard... they didn't touch a thing."

But Deterding didn't blame it on the shot selection. "Most of the shots were taken were good percentage shots," he said.

"Oh, I'm sure there were a few that shouldn't have been attempted. But I'd say about 80 percent of our shots were good ones."

Late in the third period, the Warriors finally found the range. They burned the nets with nine straight points to pull ahead at the end of the stanza, 32-28.

In the last quarter... the free throw line. They scored eight straight points on charity tosses.

They also began to play a "swarming" brand of defense... sort of a version of the famous Collinsville ball-press.

Whoever got the ball for South was immediately swarmed by two or three Maroons.

With just seven seconds remaining in the game and the Warriors trailing 44-41, Greg Feigl scored from five feet to pull South to within one point.

In the Maroons' attempt to throw the ball inbounds, Angle tied the ball up, and a jump-ball was whistled. Just two ticks remained on the clock.

Angle won the jump, but the ball was grabbed off by Belleville West and the Maroons' victory was assured.

"That" was enough Saturday night in Belleville.

Steeler grapplers win twice, lose first

It was an up and down day for the North Steeler wrestling team Saturday. The Steelers won two ends of their triple-meet with Collinsville, Edwardsville and Belleville West, but lost one meet.

The North grapplers handled both Edwardsville's Flyers and the Kahoks from Collinsville with relative ease. They beat Collinsville 50-4 and defeated Edwardsville 49-10.

But when it came time for the last meet of the afternoon, the Maroons of Belleville West pinned the first defeat of the season on the Steelers, 34-19.

"I thought we performed against both Edwardsville and Collinsville pretty much as I expected we would," said Steeler coach Walt Whitaker. "But against Belleville West, we just didn't wrestle well."

The Steelers are now 5-1 in dual competition this season. It's not bad. But not exactly what Whitaker had in mind.

"I thought before the season started, that we'd be undefeated at this point of the campaign," said Whitaker.

"I'm not sure what the problem was against West. I think part of it could be mental, but I really think it was just a lack of putting basic fundamentals into practice."

But all is not gloom on the Steelers' part of the fence. When you're 5-1, you have to be doing SOMETHING right.

"I think these guys on the team this year really want to be winners," said Whitaker. "So far, I've seen a showing of real good attitudes."

"If we can just go back into practice this week and iron out those few things that went wrong against West, we'll be alright."

The results Saturday for North 50, Collinsville 4.

Cougars' tourney snowed-out

The SIUE Cougar basketball team arrived home in Edwardsville Sunday after a long trip. But it wasn't as long as it was supposed to have been. The Cougars set out Friday morning for Rensselaer, Ind., to play in the St. Joseph's College Tournament. They didn't make it. Neither did the tournament.

Because of the icy road conditions throughout the Midwest, the Cougars and Milton College of Ohio were stranded before they could get to Rensselaer.

The team from Ohio could get to within 40 miles of Rensselaer (Crown Point, Ind.). But the Cougars could only get as far as Champaign, Ill. They stayed there Friday and Saturday nights.

The Illinois State Police wouldn't let them out of Champaign because of the road conditions east of there," said SIUE Sports Information Director Al Barnes. "They're trying to re-schedule the tournament, but it's hard to be able to."

The tournament was originally set to be played on Friday and Saturday, but when the two teams couldn't make it, officials decided to move the tourney to Saturday and Sunday.

They decided to postpone it indefinitely when the Cougars failed to arrive Saturday. The other two teams that were scheduled to play in the tournament were Indiana State University at Evansville and St. Joseph's College.

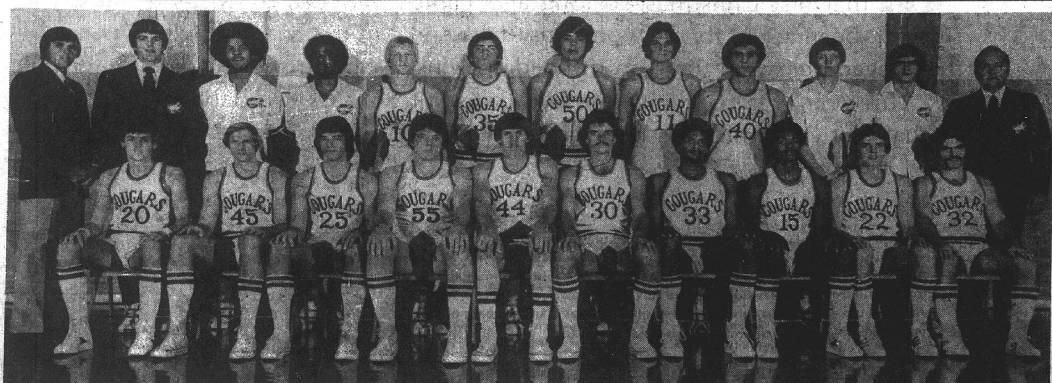

The Cougars will swing back into action, weather permitting, with two home games this week in the Edwardsville High School gym.

They play Greenville College Thursday night and will host the University of Illinois-Chicago Circle Saturday night. Game time for both is set for 7:30.

Ken Perkins has arrived home safely

By PETE HAYES
Press-Record Sports Editor
Ken Perkins left his job in Venice in 1975 with a round-trip ticket. But he didn't know it at the time.

Perkins, who was an assistant coach for the Red Devils in that state championship year of 1975, has returned as the head coach of the team.

When he left, there record was 32-2... when he returned, things weren't quite the same. Perkins took the job in early September of this year. That was after the school year had already started. A lot of things had transpired at Venice High since the time he left to take an assistant coaching job at

Oakland City (Ind.) College. Rich Esington, the coach in 1975, is gone. The state championship teams are gone. The seniors on this year's squad were freshmen when the Devils took all the marbles in '75. The last two years, the once-mighty Red Devils had but together unsuccessful seasonal records. Last year, they were 2-21. Now, things are looking up for Venice. But Perkins says that things won't change overnight. What's it going to take? "YEARS!"... says Perkins. "It's going to take a long time to get the wounds of the past couple of seasons to heal."

"These players, really don't remember much about that championship season," he added. "Oh, sometimes, one of them will say 'I remember Ron Henry did this, or 'How come we can't get this to work like he did?'"

"But the thing that they don't realize is that it didn't come naturally for the '75 team, either."

It's going to take a while to heal...

But that's history now. Perkins has a big, if not monumental — task ahead of him. He has to get the Venice basketball program back on its feet.

Words, the "Venice Red Devils" used to strike fear in the hearts of opposing coaches. That's hardly the case at present.

Perkins is a native of Roxana. His family moved to Owensville, Ind., when he was in the eighth grade.

They returned to this area Ken's junior year in high school when they moved to Granite City. He graduated from Granite City High in 1968.

FROM THERE he went to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. But he didn't like it. So, he transferred to Oakland City College.

"I didn't like the fact that there were so many people at SIUE," said Perkins.

Think basketball all year long...

Perkins has a little extra reason for liking OCC besides the smallness. It was while he was a coach there last year, that he met his wife, Kathy. "She was the homecoming queen there two years ago and had come back to crown the new one," he said. "That's when I met her."

Mrs. Perkins, 23, a native of Salem, Ill., works as a substitute teacher in the Venice school system.

How did Perkins get all the way from Oakland City, Ind. to Venice, Ill.? The person who is his neighbor in coaching, Madison's Larry Graham, was also his next-door-neighbor when he came back to this area after college.

"LARRY GRAHAM actually got me the assistant job at Venice," said Perkins. "I was working as a substitute teacher in Venice and was working with the grade school basketball team."

"When Larry found out that Venice was going to be looking for an assistant, he told me that he knew where I could get a job."

But how did he get back to Venice after leaving in 1973? "They contacted me," he said. "The first of September Robert Vickers, the Venice superintendent called me and asked me if I would be interested in the job."

"I told him I'd think about it. You know, trying to play the cool, non-chalant type. "Then a few days later, he called me back and said they were very interested in me. I told him I was very interested, myself. That's how it happened."

The circumstances behind the past situation at Venice remain cloudy. What does Perkins know about it?

"Really not much," he said. "All I know is that they had some discipline problems."

WHAT ABOUT DISCIPLINE? How does Perkins approach it?

"I'm not a stickler for calling up a kid to check on him and see if he's in the house at a certain time," said Perkins. "The guys know what they're going to have to do to be winners. I think they understand it and will act accordingly."

How about hair length? "My feeling is that they can play with or without it. I don't agree with coaches who make them cut it off just to see if they'll sacrifice for the team. That just doesn't hold water to me."

"If I can get these guys to think 'basketball' from January through December each year, we'll be all right."

What about the prospects for this season? "My goal is to become a contender by the end of the season," he said.

We're just two games into the season at this point, and I like to play them one at a time.

"But I'd have to say that if we can just keep a desire in these guys to be like the state championship team, we've got a prayer."

The "we" Perkins referred to is his pair of assistant coaches, Chuck Mosby and Jim Ohlendorf.

Hair: They can play with or without it.

What about the sophomore? "We've only got three or four sophomores in the whole school, has y'ar," said Perkins. "That's going to be one of our problems in the future."

But the present is what Perkins is worried about. "I told them that there is no pressure on them to win."

"The only thing I ask of them is that they pay attention to me, work hard and make progress as the season goes on."

"If they do all those things, winning will take care of itself."

Jeff Phelps second overall in J&J Cycle Scrambles

Jeff Phelps, 12, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dale Phelps, 4145 South Street in Pontoon Beach, took the second-place trophy in the seasonal overall finale of the motorcycle races at the J&J Cycle Scrambles promoted by Jack Orville and Jerry Phelps in Ottaville, Ill.

The races were held at the Mississippi Valley Race Ways in Ottaville.

The competition, which was the last of the season, was run in over five inches of snow. Jeff finished second in that race, in addition to placing second overall.

He started riding motorcycles at the tender age of five, but didn't begin riding competitively until the middle of the 1978 season. He finished seventh overall at J&J that season. He is a seventh grade student at Grigsby Junior High School.

Weatherstripping, storm doors urged

Most people just don't know about the simple measures they could take to save on their energy bills, according to a Southern Illinois University at Carbondale energy saver.

Techniques to weatherize homes against the winds and sub-zero temperatures of winter are easy, not terribly time-consuming. And they are generally inexpensive when compared to fuel and utility costs, says Richard Archer, design instructor.

Archer, who has worked since 1969 on alternative energy sources and energy conservation, believes people are becoming more energy-conscious, but need to learn how to make their energy consumption more efficient.

He has lectured to citizen groups and has received letters and phone calls from homeowners who've thanked him for helping them realize substantial savings on their energy bills.

What's his first rule in cutting energy costs? "Buy a caulking gun and a tube of caulk and seal up all the cracks—around windows, doors, the chimney, where the house meets the foundation, anywhere," he instructs.

The average home has enough cracks to equal a two-foot-square hole in the wall, Archer says; keeping out cold air is as important as keeping warm air inside.

Other suggestions include using weatherstripping around edges of windows and doors. "It's amazing to me to walk into someone's house and see daylight around the doors. You know you're going to be losing money there," he says.

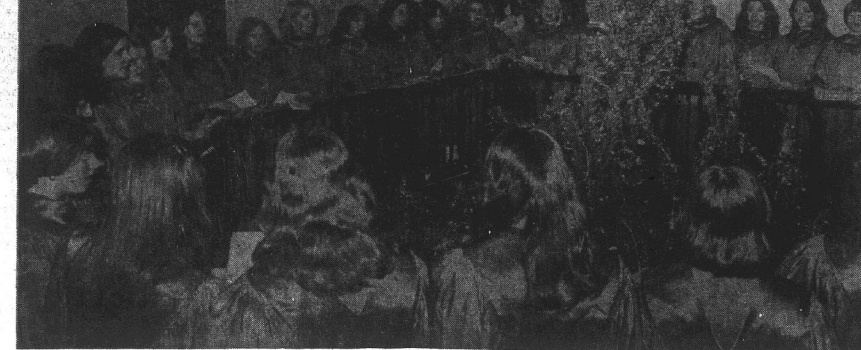

Homeowners can check the situation by putting their hands around the edges of windows and doors on windy days and feeling for air movement, he says. A flickering candle or cigarette smoke also will identify air leaks.

Archer says electrical sockets also should be checked for air flow. To correct the problem here, the homeowner can turn off power and stuff non-flammable material such as fiberglass insulation around the electrical boxes.

These things alone can save homeowners 10 to 20 percent on electric or heating bills, Archer believes.

A slightly more expensive energy saver is storm windows. Archer says the system provides good insulation by creating dead air spaces between the inside windows and storm windows. Once they're installed, caulking should be used around the frames.

Less expensive flexible plastic can be used in place of glass, and frames are sold commercially. Homeowners need only to stretch plastic to fit the frame and install it over the existing window opening.

CHRISTMAS CAROLS are sung by the advanced mixed chorus of South High School assembled around second-floor balcony of the Granite City Hall after a Wednesday afternoon ceremony lighting the 20-foot tree erected in the first-floor lobby. The top portion of tree can be seen at right.

Students from Lake School participated in the ceremony and presented a pine-cone wreath to Mayor Paul Schuler which they had made at the school. The chorus was under the direction of Mrs. Mary Ann Bright.

Closing draperies, shades and shutters at night also will keep the cold air out. Shutters insulated on one side with styrofoam are good cold air blocks, as is a layer of styrofoam or some material on top of drapery rods. South windows can be uncovered during daylight hours to take advantage of free solar heat. Hot water heaters, particularly those operated on gas, should be drained periodically to clear tank sediment. The sediment acts as an insulation layer, making the heater work harder to warm through the water, Archer says. He also suggests wrapping hot water heaters to eliminate head escape. Insulating the tank can save between 15 and 30 percent on the bill, he asserts. —Keep refrigerators defrosted because the frost will make the machine work harder (and use more energy). —Change all light bulbs to ones with lower wattage. It might seem less bright for a day or so, but Archer contends the eyes get used to it. Depending on use, this method can cut dollars from the annual power bill.

—Install a humidifier to keep moisture in the air. Moist air feels warmer, cuts down on static electricity (a real danger to solid state electrical appliances such as stereos) and offers more protection against common colds.

Homeowners with fireplaces should install an outside air vent so the fire won't be pulling oxygen from throughout the entire house. Chimney dampers also should be kept closed when the fireplace is not in use.

MRS. ELEANORE ARNOVITZ SHULMAN

Former local resident heads Junior League

Mrs. Eleanor A. "Ellie" Shulman has been elected president of the Junior League of Dayton, Ohio, Inc.

A 1960 graduate of Smith College, Mrs. Shulman is the daughter of Mrs. E. M. Arnovitz and the late Dr. Arnovitz of Granite City, and resided here for a number of years.

Prior to her election, Mrs. Shulman served on the Dayton Art Institute's associate board from 1971 to 1977, as the Institute's Oktoberfest chairman in 1975, and as chairman of the Living Arts Center Gallery board from 1969 to 1972.

The Dayton Junior League, one of 234 junior leagues in the United States, Canada and Mexico, is a non-profit organization of women.

Its essential purpose is to educate its members to the needs of the community, and to train them to be effective volunteers.

Founded with ten members in 1920, the Dayton League now has 200 active members between the ages of 22 and 42. In the past year, the Junior League of Dayton has applied its volunteers and money to ten projects in the community.

Among them are the Experience Center at the Dayton Art Institute, SCAN, the Suspected Child Abuse and Neglect Center, and Dayton-A History in Photographs, the first history in pictures of the Dayton area.

Funds for community projects are raised through the Town Hall Lecture Series, now celebrating its 22nd season. All proceeds from this series are returned to the community.

State payroll up

Illinois Comptroller Michael J. Bakalis on Friday released figures which show that the October state payroll increased by more than $3.3 million over October 1976.

"This October increase means state government is paying five and a half percent more for salaries this year," said Bakalis. "Even though our figures show there were 290 fewer state employees than in September, the annual comparison shows that government continues to grow at a fantastic rate."

There were 117,947 employees of all state agencies in October, an increase of 1,168, or 1.0 percent, as compared to September.

Exclusive of educational institutions, the October total was 75,823. This is a decrease of 290, or 0.4 percent, as compared to September.

Changes by major groups were:

Constitutional officers and courts up 26, or 3 percent. Code departments down 209, or 3 percent.

Major commissions down 99, or 2.5 percent. Miscellaneous agencies down 8, or 4 percent.

Payrolls for all agencies totaled $122,003,017, an increase of $2,300,260, or 1.9 percent, over September. Payrolls for all agencies, except educational institutions, were $81,577,486, a decrease of $1,232,119, or 1.5 percent.

The number of employees in October 1977 was 753 more than in October 1976. Educational institutions increased by 859, while all other agencies decreased by 126.

Total payroll costs for all state agencies increased by $6,314,918, or up 5.5 percent, from October 1976 to October 1977.

Seek road bid fund recovery

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott last week filed a triple damage antitrust suit in Federal District Court in Chicago that he said could return to the state $5 million to $7 million that Scott charged was lost through a bid-rigging conspiracy on highway projects on Interstate Highway 55 (the Stevenson Expressway).

Defendants in Scott's suit are eight corporations and six individuals: Brighton Building & Maintenance Co.; Krug Excavating Co.; Western Asphalt Paving Co.; Union Contracting & Material Co.; Thos. M. Madden Co. and J. M. Corbett Co., all of Chicago.

Arcole Midwest Corp. of Evanston, Ill.; Palumbo Excavating Co. of Hillside, Ill.; Thomas J. Bowler, president of Brighton Building & Maintenance Co.; George B. Krug Sr., secretary of Krug Excavating Co.; Ernest A. Bederman, president of Arcole Midwest Corp.; James C. Corbett, president of J. M. Corbett Co.; Robert J. Madden, president of Thos. M. Madden Co.; and Peter A. Palumbo, president of Palumbo Excavating Co.

On Nov. 2, 1977, guilty verdicts were returned in a suit brought by the U.S. Department of Justice against all of the corporations and two of the individuals, Bowler and Krug Sr., the attorney general asserted.

Scott's suit is being filed under the Sherman and Clayton federal antitrust statutes and the Illinois Antitrust Act.

He charges that the defendants met in July 1976 prior to a bid opening on the Stevenson highway projects. Scott alleged that those found guilty agreed to allocate among themselves five projects totaling more than $45 million.

The Brighton-Krug group (Brighton Building and Maintenance Co., Krug Excavating Co., Western Asphalt Paving Co.) got three contracts totaling $29.4 million, and Arcole Midwest got two contracts totaling $16.1 million, Scott alleged.

He charges that because of the bid-rigging conspiracy, Illinois has been denied the benefits of free and open competition in construction of five federally-assisted Interstate projects on the Stevenson and also that Illinois paid artificially high prices.

After hearings last July, the Department of Transportation suspended for six months the Brighton Building and Maintenance Co., Krug Excavating Co. and Union Contracting and Materials Co. from bidding on any contracts approved or awarded by the department.

The latest suit is the ninth triple damage action brought by Scott's office to recover overcharges alleged paid by the state as a result of practices in the highway construction industry.

It is being handled for Scott by Thomas J. Clechanowski, chief of Scott's antitrust division, and Assistant Attorneys General Thomas M. Genovese and Lee H. Weiner.

GERONTOLOGY FUND CONTRIBUTION. Mrs. Vernice Walters of Granite City and Anthony Traxler, director of the Gerontology Program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, discuss a $3,000 contribution to the program by Mrs. Walters. The fund is designed to further develop the study of gerontology and gerontological activities at the university.

Higher dividend by Illinois Power

Illinois Power Company last week announced an increase in the quarterly dividend on its common stock from 55 cents to 57 cents per share.

It is the first increase in the dividend voted by the board of directors since 1970 and is the 123rd consecutive quarterly dividend declared by the board on the common stock, a spokesman said Friday.

The board also declared regular quarterly dividends of 51 cents per share on the 4.8 percent cumulative preferred stock, 52 1/2 cents per share on the 4.20 percent cumulative preferred, 5 1/4 cents on the 4.42 percent and 58 1/2 cents on the 4.70 percent cumulative preferred stock.

Also, $1.03 per share on the 8.24 percent cumulative preferred stock, 9 1/4 cents per share on the 7.56 percent, $1.11 on the 8.94 percent and $1 per share on the 8 percent cumulative preferred stock.

These dividends are all payable Feb. 1, 1978, to stockholders of record on Jan. 10.

Gerontology development gift

A gerontology development fund has been initiated at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with a $5,000 donation by Vernice E. Walters of Granite City.

"The fund will further the development of gerontology and gerontological activities at SIUE and will assist the university in developing instruction, research and public service programs designed to meet the needs of older citizens in the area, state and nation," said Anthony Traxler, director of the Gerontology Program and associate professor in the department of psychology at SIUE.

Prof. Traxler feels that Mrs. Walters' donation will provide a needed structure and serve as a catalyst for the generation of added funds for the university's Gerontology Program.

The fund is designed to acquire workshop and scholarly materials in support of gerontological activities and programs, and to further regional cooperation in development of gerontological studies and activities.

Other stipulations of the fund are to provide gerontology instruction through student awards, grants and/or other loans and to support faculty and staff participation in conferences, workshops and seminars at local, regional and national levels.

Mrs. Walters has been actively interested in the Gerontology Program at SIUE. She regularly attends "Dialogue with Senior Citizens," a program held every Wednesday from 1:30 until 4 p.m. in the University Center.

"Mrs. Walters is personally interested in providing educational and cultural opportunities for senior citizens in the area and in Illinois," Traxler said. She is assistant to the state director of the American Association of Retired Persons and was active in establishment of the Institute of Lifetime Learning.

Traxler feels there is a "tremendous need" for training professionals and para-professionals who work with the elderly in this region.

He said the Gerontology Program has made an effort to provide short-term training to meet this need by offering workshops in various aspects of aging. The university has plans to work toward the establishment of a master's degree in gerontology.

The Gerontology Program also co-sponsors the Senior Citizens Fair held each spring on campus, and offers 16 quarter hours of study at the graduate level in gerontology. The curriculum is designed to train students in aspects of

Unidentified odor fills air in area

An odor similar to gas filled the air of Madison and Venice, and part of Granite City late Sunday night and early this morning.

Madison and Venice police and Illinois Power Co. received numerous calls and have been investigating the cause of the odor without results.

A spokesman for Illinois Power said workers have checked everywhere, but can find no evidence of a gas leak anywhere in the area.

A police spokesman from Madison said they found nothing in the railroad yards and no traces with gas-fume fumes.

One theory was that it came from a passing barge.

Sen. Vadalabene seeking new term

Senator Sam M. Vadalabene today announced that he will be a candidate for re-election to the Illinois State Senate from the 56th District.

He has served in the Illinois State Senate since 1970.

Prior to his election to the Senate, he served two terms in the Illinois House of Representatives.

"After the tremendous show of support for me in the last election, I feel that I have a duty to the district to use my experience and the seniority I've accrued to deal with the many problems the area is facing," Vadalabene said.

"Anyone who knows me at all knows how much I enjoy working in the Senate. More important, however, 'Is the Senate the place for me?'" Vadalabene continued. "Is the place that I am accomplishing things for the people who live in the 56th District."

Many of these citizens have honored me with their help and support. I want to keep doing the best I can for them in the years to come.

"If there is one general goal I intend to set for myself in the immediate future, it will be to try to create a stronger spirit of unity and cooperation among all the representatives of this great area."

"We must recognize that we are interdependent. With our combined strength, we will insure the pursuit of the area's interests through the legislative process."

Reduced price on remodeling courthouse

The Madison County Board Friday approved a $371,000 contract with Wilson Construction Co. of Godfrey for renovating the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville.

Economic Development Administration grant funds are to be used for his work.

The contract total was the result of negotiations which reduced the scope of the project and removed excess costs from the $550,000 bid Wilson submitted. Even the architect, John Rapp, reduced his fee $10,000 in order to bring the project within the scope of the available funds. He will receive $34,000 for his work.

Deleted were insulated woodwork, painting and some refinishing. The project will provide another courtroom, three jury rooms, two more judge's chambers and other rooms.

Under EDA rules, the project must be under way by Thursday, or the grant would be lost.

Amvets plan yule events

Commander John Logan of Amvets Post 51 has announced events and projects scheduled during December. He said all proceeds from an event to be held Saturday will be used for charitable projects.

An adult Christmas party is scheduled Dec. 17 at the post home, 5100 Lakeview Drive, featuring a hand for dancing and refreshments. Non-members will be admitted at a cost of $6 per person, he added.

The annual children's yule party will begin at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 18, and Santa is scheduled to arrive at 2:30 p.m. to present gifts, toys and candy to those present. Refreshments will be served by auxiliary members, Logan said.

Saddist Earl Smith and Sacks of Post 50 were honored with a citation from the Department of Illinois Amvets for a 100 percent membership, the commander noted.

Township appointed to the levee board, due to the drainage problems we have here, but I don't have any business in it. He will be responsive to our needs."

Greathouse served with the Infantry in Europe from 1942 to 1946. He was Midwest Division manager for Schenley Distillers, then regional sales manager and coordinator for Barton Distillers, and served as general sales manager of the St. Louis Wholesale Liquor Co., prior to starting his own business.

Greathouse is to become the third Madison County trustee under a state law which gives majority membership on the five-member board to the county with the highest assessed valuation in the district.

For the first time since the sanitary district and its predecessor, the East Side Levee and Sanitary District, were created, assessment figures showed Madison County having a higher assessment than the St. Clair County area of the district, which includes East St. Louis, Canteen, Centerville and Siles Townships.

Under that law, Greathouse would replace Robert Eastern of St. Clair County, whose term expired Dec. 5, but Eastern has filed suit in federal court challenging his replacement on the board.

St. Clair County Board Chairman Victor Ciani also reappointed Eastern to the Sanitary board.

Eastern claims in his suit that the law requires the five trustees to be determined on the basis of the "current" assessment, and noted that 1976 assessment figures were used in deciding which county should control the fifth seat on the board.

He contends the 1976 assessments are not the current assessments, even though they are the latest available figures. Eastern also contends the law giving control of the board to the county with the higher assessed valuation is unconstitutional.

Because of the pending suit, Eastern was allowed "to participate" in a Metro-East Sanitary District Board meeting one week ago today and his votes were placed in the minutes, but he was not officially "seated" or recognized as a full-fledged member of the board.

The board's attorney, John Sprague of Belleville, suggested both the Madison and St. Clair county appointees be allowed to participate in the meetings and their votes be recorded in the minutes.

When the court rules which should have been serving while the case was being heard, the board then would have had the legal member, no matter which way the court decides, Sprague said.

He cautioned against actions taken on a split vote, since three votes are required for any action, and if one of the three is from Eastern or Greathouse, the action could be nullified if the court ruled he did not have the authority to vote.

Board President Russell Robinson of Granite City refused a motion to officially seat Eastern and voted against having Eastern's votes recorded in the minutes.

"I will continue to fight any efforts to seat Mr. Eastern, because I do not believe he is a member of this board," Robinson said last week.

Robinson later said he will attempt to have Greathouse officially seated on the board, but he has instructed Chief Clerk Helen Christlich to withhold per-diem paychecks from Eastern and Greathouse until the federal court decides which is the legal trustee.

Robinson will attempt to seat Greathouse at a meeting at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the district office at East St. Louis.

Venice man charged with murder attempt

No reason has been learned for the serious wounding of Miss Caroline Garcia, 18, Elkhardt, Ind., who was shot in the abdomen Wednesday night while standing inside the doorway of a Troy, Ill., truck stop restaurant.

Norvell Smith, 28, of 622A Salveter Street, Venice, was charged Thursday with attempted murder.

She is in satisfactory condition at Firmin Desloge Hospital.

Witnesses said the two apparently didn't know each other. A man walked up to a woman, they related; he then said, "Hi," and she ignored him.

After the shooting, he said he was sorry and sat down in the St. Louis East Truck Plaza on Interstate 70 and ordered a sandwich and coffee as 50 other diners ate in silence.

Called by the truck stop manager, Troy Police Chief Clarence Quinley arrested Smith and alleged finding a loaded .25-caliber automatic pistol in his hand in a jacket pocket. The chief displayed a revolver and Smith surrendered quietly.

Miss Garcia had been waiting for a companion, Charles Jackson, 28, Elkhardt, to park his car. They had stopped due to snow and ice on the highway while returning home from the west.

Bond was set at $50,000 at the Madison County Jail and Smith is still in custody today.

Service to recreation award to Earl Harris

Earl Harris, owner of Earl's Store, 19th Street and Cleveland Boulevard, received an award last night for outstanding service to the recreation industry.

The presentation was made by "Outdoors Today" at a banquet attended by 100 persons at Augustine's Restaurant, Belleville.

Those present were people involved in the development of recreational activities. Harris currently is president of the St. Louis Sports Council.

Edward Callahan, 79, dies

Edward Callahan, 79, of Colonial Haven Nursing Home, died at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, where he had been a patient two weeks.

He was born in St. Louis and which is the legal trustee.

Robinson will attempt to seat Greathouse at a meeting at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the district office at East St. Louis.

Survivors include 11 cousins who reside in the Granite City, Edwardsville area and in California.

Elkettes Christmas party

The annual Elkettes Christmas party opened with a cocktail hour in the Antler Room at the Elks Lodge last week followed by a buffet dinner served to 83 members in the lodge room.

Howard Campbell decorated the cocktail table with an unusual centerpiece of gaily costumed dolls. They were won by Mesdames Lois Cox, Helen Schissner, Marge Hiker, Ann Gasparovic, Kathryn Pomeroy, Carolyn Belling and Mildred Fehling.

Organ music was furnished during the initial hour by Mrs. Belling. Santa Claus, assisted by Mrs. Wilma Russell, distributed gifts to all who attended.

Mrs. Euphie Tarris served as chairman of the table decorations, favors, and Christmas tree, assisted by Mesdames Lorraine Williams, Lois Cox and Helen Bengfield. The centerpieces were created with greenery, red bows and balls centered with a red chimney and white candle.

The holiday arrangements were later presented as prizes and won by Mesdames Clara Harbig, Shirley Cunningham, Sally Gracey, Katherine Hart, Elmina Trachsel, Edith Mitchell, Mildred Jungels, Helen Miha, Osie Southwick, Helen Todd, Robert Cottrell and Lorraine Williams.

Hostesses were Mrs. Anna Jenkins and Mrs. Gracey. A short business session was conducted by Mrs. Dean Graf, president, and she announced there will be a pinocle session at 2 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 18, for members of the Elks Lodge and their guests.

Mrs. Frances Cherry won the diamond ring prize for the evening.

Chaplain Mrs. Trachsel gave the invocation preceding the dinner and Mrs. Graf reported the next meeting is set for Jan. 3.

St. John Lutheran

The congregation of St. John Lutheran Church and Quad-City residents are invited to attend the sing-a-long of the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's Messiah at the 7 p.m. Christmas candlelight service on Sunday, Dec. 18, according to the pastor, the Rev. Samuel Boda.

The service will be conducted in the sanctuary of the church located at 2001 St. Clair Avenue. The Chorus will be the final segment of the evening service and those present will sing with the church choir, it was noted.

A candlelight procession by the Senior Church and Children's Choirs will open the service. Church lights will be dimmed, and only light from the overhead Herrnhuter (Moravian) Star, with its 32 points plus candlelight from advent wreath candles and altar and aisle candles will adorn the sanctuary.

Mrs. June Barton will preside at the organ and accompany the choir as they assemble in the front of the congregation to sing some of the favorite traditional Christmas hymns and carols, Rev. Boda reports.

The Children's Choir will sing two Christmas numbers, directed by Mrs. Diane Gebhardt and accompanied by Miss Debbie Gebhardt.

From the balcony the Senior Church Choir will sing Gustav Holst's stirring "Christmas Day" and selections from Handel's Messiah will follow. Mrs. Josephine Diak and Mrs. Diane Gebhardt will do recitations appropriate for the Advent-Christmas seasons.

German, Hungarian, Ukrainian and American Christmas carols will also be featured and during the service members of the eighth grade confirmation class will present pageantry in the chancel.

The candlelight reception will conclude the service.

The Women's Service Guild and other volunteers will serve refreshments in the downstairs fellowship hall.

Rev. Boda also announces the Senior Choir will visit the local hospital and nursing homes and sing carols on Dec. 30 beginning at 8:30 p.m. Choirs will also visit homes of members as time permits, he noted.

Wintertime storms—beautiful, dangerous

By MARY RICHARDS
Illinois Department of Public Health

Winter storms, they can be beautiful, aggravating, or fun. They can also be killers.

Each year, directly and indirectly, winter storms cause deaths—automobile and other accidents' overexertion, exhaustion and consequent fatal heart attacks; exposure and fatal freezing.

Home fires; carbon monoxide poisoning in stoves, cars and from faulty heating units; falls on slippery surfaces; electrocution from downed wires; and building collapse.

The Illinois Department of Public Health has some safety hints that may help you avert a winter storm tragedy.

"First, keep ahead of winter storms by reading and listening to the latest Weather Bureau bulletins.

Then, before the storm arrives go over the following checklist:

Check battery-powered equipment (radio, flashlight, emergency cooking facilities). Determine your supply of heating fuel. Fuel carriers may not be able to move if your area is buried in snow.

Check your food and stock an extra supply, including food that requires no cooking or refrigeration in case of power failure.

Prevent fire hazards due to overheated coal- or oil-burning stoves, fireplaces, heaters or furnaces.

Stay indoors during storms and cold snaps, unless you are in peak physical condition. If you must go out, avoid overexertion.

Don't let yourself shoveling snow. It is extremely hard work for anyone who is in less than prime physical condition, and can bring on a heart attack.

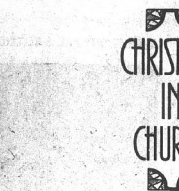

Dress to fit the season. If you spend any time outdoors during cold weather, remember that several layers of loose-fitting, warm clothing are more effective and efficient than a single layer of thick clothing.

And mittens, snug at the wrist, are better protection than are fingered gloves.

If you are caught in your car in a winter storm, that car can be your best friend if you have prepared properly.

Be sure your auto is completely winterized.

If you are planning a long-distance winter drive, you should carry the following: blankets or sleeping bags; matches and candles; facial tissue, paper towels, extra clothing, high-calorie non-

Mitchell Presbyterian

A series of special programs and events has been announced by the Mitchell United Presbyterian Church as a part of its celebration of the Christmas season.

Following the worship service for those who are interested there will be a tour of a Reformed Jewish Synagogue, Temple Israel, in Ladue, conducted by Rabbi Klein, who will discuss present and historical Jewish religious practices and beliefs. The tour will begin at the temple at 1:30 p.m.

They will sing carols at homes of shut-in members of the church, then attend the first course of the dinner and continue with the program, concluding the evening with dessert and a recreation hour at the church.

The Christmas cantata, "Ring the Bells," will be presented by The Stepping Stones at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 18, the pastor added.

They will be accompanied by sound track of orchestration of trumpets, trombones, woodwinds, violins, bells and percussion instruments of several types.

Members of the group are John Bracamontes, David, Mary and Paula Bryant, Hope, Karen and Carol Lee.

Rev. Bryant reports the Christmas eve worship will begin at 10 p.m. with the congregation participating in the service. Scripture will be read responsively and antiphonally by the minister, choir, solo readers, the men and women of the congregation at various places throughout the service.

Cline, Alicia Hendrickson, Steve Johnson, Donna Millikin, Nick Popelchak and Jim Strader. Jon Heil will serve as the narrator.

Enhancing the 40-voice Sanctuary Choir will be a taped orchestral accompaniment recorded in London, England. The Rev. John Nading, minister of music, and the Rev. Roy Johnson, pastor, are extending an invitation to the community to attend.

Nameoki Methodist

On Sunday night, Dec. 18, at 7 o'clock, the Church School Christmas program will be presented.

On Christmas Day, Sunday, Dec. 25, there will be a special Christmas worship service, at the 10:45 a.m. hour, preceded by Sunday school at 9:30 a.m.

On Christmas evening and night, from 4 to 8:30, the church will be open for Holy Communion. Communicants may come and go on their own schedule and pray and commune as long as each one desires. The sacrament will be prepared at the altar and the church will be lighted with soft lights as carols are played.

Circuit breaker deadline

Illinois senior and disabled citizens only have a few more days until the Dec. 31 deadline to apply for retroactive cash grants under the state's Circuit Breaker tax relief program.

Eligible citizens — who have not already applied for tax relief for any years between 1972 and 1978 — must file before the end of the year because of new legislation which establishes a one-year limitation on the circuit breaker filing period.

Citizens can obtain circuit breaker claim forms (form IL-1363) for the years 1972 through 1976 by calling the Illinois Department of Revenue toll free at 1-800-252-8972, or by calling the Lieutenant Governor's Senior Action Center at 1-800-252-6565, also a toll-free number.

Forms and circuit breaker filing assistance also are provided — free of charge — at any state revenue department district office and at area offices of the Illinois Department on Aging.

The state's circuit breaker law, enacted in 1973, makes tax relief available to citizens 65 and older, or disabled persons, who have annual household incomes of less than $10,000.

Under the circuit breaker program, administered by the Illinois Department of Revenue, cash grants for tax relief are provided to qualified citizens who apply with the state.

Maximum annual property tax relief grants of up to $500 are available for the years 1972 through 1976. An additional grant of up to $100 is also available to citizens for other taxes paid since 1974.

Among the locations where Quad-Cityans can obtain free circuit breaker filing assistance and forms are: Illinois Department of Revenue district office, District Eight, 1265 N. 89th St., East St. Louis 62203 (397-9200).

Illinois Department on Aging area office, Southwest Illinois Area Agency on Aging, Edgemont Building Suite 107 at 67th State St., East St. Louis 62203 (397-4118).

found dead

Mrs. Boulah Cox (Marmion), 64, of 2419 Illinois Ave., was found without signs of life in her home at 8:40 a.m. Friday and was pronounced dead by Madison County Deputy Coroner William Sternberg at 8:58 a.m. Friday.

She was discovered lying on the kitchen floor by a daughter and son-in-law, Darrell and Kathy Tinsley of Granite City, who notified police. They said she had been under a doctor's care for cancer for some time.

Officers found no signs of foul play.

Mrs. Cox was a lifelong resident of Granite City and was a member of Second Baptist Church. Her husband, Carl Cox, preceded her in death in 1974.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Tinsley, Mrs. Charles (Carol) Canady, and Mrs. Bill (Barbara) Scardale, all of Granite City, and Mrs. Don (Laverne) Ebert of Collinsville; a son, Bill Cox of Granite City; two brothers, Clarence Marmion and Earl McMillan, both of Granite City; two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Cline of Granite City and Mrs. Ace (Toy) Butler of Fresno, Calif.; and nine grandchildren.

Seminar on agricultural estate plansBy RON CORNWELL Agricultural Extension Advisor

Many Madison County residents are expected to attend an estate planning seminar Jan. 16 at Augustine's Restaurant in Belleville. This has been one of the more popular Extension Service programs in past years.

Al Beck and Don Uchtman, both University of Illinois agriculture law specialists, will be on the program. Both speakers have extensive knowledge in the area of estate planning.

The program begins at 10 a.m. and continues until 3:40 p.m. It will cover all phases of estate planning, from state and federal inheritance and gift tax laws to the latest changes in laws that have an effect on estate planning.

Pre-registration is required for those interested in attending. The registration fee of $6.25 per person covers the noon meal, coffee breaks and educational materials handed out.

Those interested may send their registration to: Ron Cornwell, 900 Hillside, Box 406, Edwardsville 62025 or telephone 656-7200. The program is sponsored by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service in Madison County.

Here is how the program works: Any farmer having hay to sell can contact the Extension office in the county in which he lives and request a "hay inventory sheet."

The hay inventory sheet should be filled out by the farmer listing type, condition and amount of hay for sale. The sheet should be returned to the State Department of Agriculture.

A list of producers with available hay is sent out in Illinois and other states. Interested buyers contact the producer direct.

There was considerable concern this fall in Madison County about possible aflatoxin problems in corn.

The Northern Regional Research Center in Peoria found no aflatoxin in 154 samples of corn tested in that laboratory. The samples represent about 77 percent of the Illinois corn acreage harvested this year.

Aflatoxin is a toxic chemical produced by the Aspergillus fungus with drought stress or insect damages.

Emphasis on safe toys

Dr. Paul Q. Peterson, director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, has issued guidelines for Christmas shoppers in the selection of toys. "Fortunately," he said, "safe toys are more plentiful than ever, but we who purchase them must still exercise some judgment regarding the possible hazard to a small child."

Dr. Peterson said that, when shopping for toys, shoppers should look for those that have smooth, rounded edges. "A child can easily be hurt by the sharp edges on some toys," he noted.

Shoppers should also purchase dolls or stuffed animals that have eyes sewn on instead of attached with sharp prongs. "Eyes attached with prongs are easy to remove and swallow," he cautioned.

"Avoid purchasing stuffed animals that have sharp wires in the ears or tails. These wires often poke through the material, and can injure a child. 'Do not give a small child a doll with sharp, pointed pins in the hair."

"Stay away from those toys that have small parts which are exposed or are easy for a child to remove and swallow or insert into an ear or nostril."

"Other types of toys that should not be given to small children include those which contain darts, arrows or other missiles that can be thrown or shot at someone."

"Electrical toys, especially those which heat up, and toys made of glass or brittle plastic are also hazardous in the hands of small children."

"Always turn off the tree lights when leaving home."

Dr. Peterson advised following such precautions with all decorative lights, such as plaques, tree-top ornaments and outdoor lights, and replacing defective materials.

"While these procedures will not uncover all possible hazards," he said, "they do provide a method for identifying the most common electrical shock and fire hazards."

Procedures to stop nosebleed

(American Medical Association)
How do you stop a nosebleed? Almost everyone has his own pet remedy.

Remember when someone told you to insert a small wad of paper under the upper lip? After awhile, the bleeding stopped. Of course, the paper probably didn't really help and the bleeding would have stopped anyway.

The bleeding point often is near the tip of the nose.

—Keep the victim quiet. Avoid coughing, blowing the nose or walking about during or soon after a nosebleed.

—Even talking should be avoided. Breathe through the mouth.

—If bleeding is severe or prolonged, see a physician.

Some individuals, particularly children, have frequent nose-bleeds even though they have no serious disease.

Small blood vessels under the delicate nasal lining may rupture easily, especially during violent exertion. Nosebleeds are common following a blow on the nose. Exposure to high altitudes can cause nose bleeds. High blood pressure sometimes is to blame.

Loss of blood usually is much less than the victim thinks and, unless bleeding persists, this loss usually isn't serious.

The American Medical Association offers several approaches that might help to curb nosebleeds:

—Have the victim sit upright, unless he is faint.

—Apply large, cold, wet towels over the face, nose and back of the head and neck.

—Pinch the nostrils together.

Hearing due on gaming charges

The trial of gambling charges against Mrs. Linda Freeman, 31, of 612 Jefferson St., Venice, and Billy G. Patterson, 41, of St. Louis, is scheduled at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in Granite City.

The charges stem from the alleged selling of "slot-machine-type" cards in Venice-Madison Legion Post 307 on Wednesday, Nov. 30.

A hearing on the status of the organizations liquor license will be held Wednesday by Mayor William Ebersold who is the liquor control commissioner for Venice.

Thompson honorary Easter Seal leader

Illinois Governor James R. Thompson has been named honorary chairman of the statewide Easter Seal campaign in Illinois. The announcement was made today by P. P. Brackbill, Ph.D., of Carbondale, president of the Easter Seal Society of Illinois for Crippled Children and Adults.

The 1978 Easter Seal campaign in Illinois and throughout the nation will be conducted from March 1 to March 31, ending with a nationwide Easter Seal telethon on April 1 and 2.

As honorary chairman, the governor will spearhead the activities of thousands of Easter Seal volunteers in Illinois' 102 counties participating in the fund-raising appeal.

Contributions to the annual drive will be used to help finance direct service programs provided by 24 local affiliated societies throughout the state.

Among the services offered are physical, occupational and speech therapy, pre-school programs, equipment loan pool, residential camping, transportation and other rehabilitation services for children and adults disabled by birth defects, disease or accident.

The Easter Seal Society of Illinois, through its member societies, has been providing help and needed services for the handicapped for more than three decades, and is a strong affiliate of the National Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults, whose origin dates back to 1919. The latter is widely recognized as the organization that pioneered in identifying needs of physically handicapped persons and in providing rehabilitation services.

United States attorney, assistant Illinois attorney general, assistant Cook County state's attorney and associate professor law at Northwestern University.

Keep yule tree fresh

By RON CORNWELL, County Agricultural Adviser. A fresh Christmas tree will remain fresh and fragrant through the Christmas season if taken care of. A dried-out tree will become a fire hazard in a short period of time.

To insure a fresh tree, cut your own Christmas tree from a tree farm. If you can't do this, purchase a tree as early as possible to insure greater freshness.

The key to keeping a Christmas tree fresh is to insure that the tree doesn't dry out. To do this, it is important that the base of the tree be kept in water from the first day of purchase. If a tree has stood for a period of time in a sales lot, the pores in the base of the tree through which water is taken up will become plugged. To renew the water-up-take ability of the tree, a new cut should be made at a right angle to the base of the tree, removing about two inches of the trunk.

The tree should be displayed in a base that will hold water. It is important that this base be kept full of water during the entire time the tree is displayed inside.

It is not uncommon for a tree to use two quarters of water during the first 24 hours and one quarter of water a day during the first week.

The best fire preventative for Christmas trees is water supplied for the tree.

Additives, like sugar or aspirin, will not do anything for the tree. Most additives do more harm than good.

To help reduce water losses from a tree, avoid putting your tree near a fireplace or heating outlet, because heat will rapidly dry out the tree.

Reducing the room temperature also helps reduce the amount of moisture evaporating from the tree.

Find burglary loot. A witness saw two youths throw a sack full of items under a front porch at 2628 Madison Ave., about 12:35 p.m. Sunday.

Police found the front door had been forced open and the house ransacked. The sack was recovered from under the neighbor's porch. Inside the sack were a radio, wristwatch, camera, intercom, pliers, clothing and a pair of boots. It is not known if anything else was taken.

Percy for quick U.S. action on PCP abuse, lethal new drug craze

Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) yesterday called on the Carter administration to take immediate action to "halt accelerating abuse of the illicit drug phencyclidine (PCP), commonly known as 'angel dust'."

In letters to Attorney General Griffin Bell and the White House special assistant for health issues, Dr. Peter G. Bourne, Percy urged that the federal government immediately restrict the availability of the drug by reclassifying it among those drugs with the highest potential for abuse.

Percy is the ranking Republican on the U.S. Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations, which monitors the government's efforts against drug abuse.

"A White House conference should also promptly be convened to focus the nation's attention on this growing health menace and to give direction to the federal effort," Sen. Percy said. "National leadership on this problem is long overdue."

Citing "new evidence of surging PCP abuse by teenagers in major cities across the country," Percy said enough facts are already in to warrant strong federal action.

"We know that the average age of youngsters trying this drug is lower than that associated with any other psychedelic drug.

"In numerous studies, PCP has proven to be more debilitating than LSD or mescaline.

"We know that the drug's low cost is escalating its use. In short, we know enough about this drug now that not to act would be to ignore a national menace."

"PCP is known to seriously disrupt behavior, causing unpredictable, violent aggression, paranoia, severe anxiety, and depression" 93 deaths related to PCP abuse have been reported since 1974, and authorities believe that hundreds more have gone unreported.

"PCP is extremely dangerous because there is a thin line between getting 'high' and accidental overdoses that may endanger human life," the Illinois Republican said, adding that "the vast majority of fatalities associated with PCP arise from murders, drownings and suicides."

Senior hot line — weatherization

(Office of Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal)

Q. What is this "weatherization program" for senior citizens that I have been hearing about?

A. This is the second component of the Emergency Energy Conservation Program. It is part of the $18.6 million one-time federal funding to all the states for saving energy in this coming winter.

Q. What does the weatherization program provide?

A. Senior citizens who qualify financially can make minor home repairs on their dwellings to minimize heat loss and improve thermal efficiency — things such as repairing broken windows, patching roofs and walls, caulking cracks and joints, insulating attics, floors and walls, and weather-stripping doors and windows.

Also included are such improvements as foundation, banking and minor adjustments, repairing of heating systems. The goal is to assure that health hazards are not created due to malfunctioning of the heat source.

All these improvements must reflect an improvement in energy use.

Q. How much money will be available for each household?

A. A maximum of $400 is available per eligible household for materials and improvements to save energy.

Q. Who can I contact on the local level to apply for assistance and see if I am eligible for these funds?

A. The elderly have priority in this program and if they feel they are in need and eligible for funds, they should contact the closest Community Action Agency representative in their county.

Q. How soon should I apply for this money?

A. Applications are accepted now and it is advisable to make application immediately. Some counties have already begun to turn down applicants due to the fact they have more requests than money available.

High court ought to reject 'bitter end' sewer opposition

As if last week's bitter cold wasn't bad enough, opponents of the Special Service Area One sanitary sewer installation plan in Chouteau-Namooki-Venice townships chose to fight it to the bitter end.

They acted Friday to seek an Illinois Supreme Court review of a detailed, well-thought-out Appellate Court finding. The Appellate ruling upheld the general obligation bond program, a financing proposal that is aided by massive state-federal funding.

Unless property owners proceed with the assisted program, a financial boon to them, they may wind up paying a much higher sewer cost later. And unless the project goes ahead now, they won't benefit from the improved sales values associated with the addition of sewer service. Nor would they gain improved health and environmental factors.

If there ever was an essential project long overdue, it is the Service Area One sanitary sewer installation in the many neighborhoods lacking sewers. The Supreme Court can expedite its start by rejecting the appeal request.

Dedicated citizenship and leadership by Chester Baker

Just as converts often become as dedicated as those born to a particular faith, Chester L. Baker became one of the most active and devoted citizens of this, his adopted community. His death Saturday following a year's illness saddens all.

President of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce for two terms in 1962-64, Mr. Baker resumed that leadership role when his services were needed. His additional terms of office in 1972-74 brought new growth and accomplishments.

Along with his conscientious approach to community betterment, Chester Baker was a gifted individual skilled not only in the steelmaking and printing fields but also his hobby, the field of amateur radio operation.

An able businessman, he shared his experience and knowledge on a statewide basis through participation in small business councils. He was a friend to thousands and will be remembered always for his constructive outlook and countless unselfish actions.

St. Louis County supervisor willing to wreck bus system

Post-Dispatch comment — Heading the advice of the St. Louis County Transportation Commission and acting with the approval of the County Council, County Supervisor Gene McNary seems to want to wreck the Bi-State Transit System if he doesn't get his way.

Mr. McNary has put Bi-State on notice to eliminate zone charges in the county by the end of the year or he will refuse to turn over the agency $9.3 million in sales taxes that the county has collected in the past six months for public transit.

Thus, if Mr. McNary really holds to this idea, Bi-State's alternatives would be to submit to his threat or discontinue bus service to St. Louis County. That would impose vast hardship on bus patrons and on bus system employees.

The county supervisor declared that county residents "are entitled to ride the bus for the same fare as somebody who lives in St. Louis or East St. Louis."

That has a real egalitarian ring about it; unfortunately, it doesn't square with the facts, which are that city residents and county residents pay the same fare, namely 25 cents plus a dime for each zone they ride through.

The metropolitan area is laid out in a series of concentric circles that move outward from St. Louis-East St. Louis. No matter where one boards a bus, in Kirkwood or Baden, the fare is 25 cents.

As the rider passes into one of the zones, he is charged an additional 10 cents, the theory being that the charge should bear some resemblance to distance traveled. It is a principle that may be new to Mr. McNary but it is a familiar one to people in the airline, interstate bus and railroad business.

There may be valid grounds for criticizing the design of the zone system. There may be too many zones or they may no longer reflect travel patterns or travel costs, but that is not what the supervisor is saying.

He wants all zones abolished by Jan. 1 and he's willing to threaten financial havoc for the bus system in order to accomplish this.

His action dramatizes a serious deficiency in the state law authorizing a half-cent sales tax for public transportation.

Collection and distribution of the tax revenues are controlled by the city and county governments, though neither has any responsibility for providing mass transit services to the area. It is the kind of division that is an invitation to grandstanding politicians.

Area's needs neglected

To the Editor:

It seems, as though the "behind the mill" area is not part of Granite City.

When you try to get something done, it's like trying to perform a miracle. All you get is promises.

But let election time or tax time come around, they don't forget that we're behind the mill then.

It's a rotten shame what the people of this neighborhood have to put up with. Maybe someone ought to draw a map for city service departments of how to get behind the mill.

ROBERT PILCH

Problems being solved

To the Editor:

People in the Fifth Ward are thankful to our new alderman and alderman for responding to our needs, such as replacing bad curbing, trash pickups, lighting and drainage.

Although our needs are far greater in this older section of Granite City, we hope that they can do more, for both the whole city and the ward.

Courthouse employees to meet on contract terms

About 360 Madison County Courthouse employees, members of American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 799, will meet at 5 p.m. today to vote on a tentative agreement on a new contract with the county.

Negotiating teams reached tentative agreement on a new contract a week ago and the proposal, if adopted by the union membership, will be presented to the Madison County Board for ratification Wednesday, Dec. 21. The union negotiating committee is recommending approval of the proposal.

The board also is expected to approve a tentative agreement with Local 520 of the Operating Engineers Union, headquartered in Mitchell, which represents 84 deputy sheriffs. That agreement was reached prior to the agreement with Local 799 and already has been ratified by the deputies.

Under a negotiating agreement, neither side will discuss specifics of the new proposals until they are approved by both sides. It was disclosed that both agreements are for two years and cover wages, benefits and other issues.

Lights fund hits 45%

The Salvation Army Tree of Lights stands today at $10,361, or 45 percent of the $23,000 goal.

It was announced by James Jeffries, 1977 drive chairman. Contributions to the Christmas fund-raising drive provide food baskets, clothing and toys for more than 700 needy families during the holiday season.

Captain Michael Tompkins, Salvation Army commanding officer, said applications were being accepted at 11 a.m. today from "large number of people."

More than 200 families applied for aid on the first day applications were received and nearly 200 on Friday.

Application can be made in person at the Salvation Army Corps Center, 3007 E. 23rd St., from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. daily through Friday, Dec. 16.

Trains collide

Two Granite City Steel trains collided on steel company property just west of 20th and Omaha streets at 9 a.m. Friday, causing an explosion which shattered a few windows and damaged a nearby house.

Two ingot molds filled with molten steel were jarred from one train car and spilled onto the snow.

Some of the snow became trapped inside the steel, which rapidly hardened around it. The heat then turned the snow into water, which expanded when it became steam, causing the newly-hardened steel jacket to explode.

Steel company officials said there were no injuries.

The molten steel was slow to cool and flames emerged from the spill for about a half-hour, threatening to reach a large train engine, which contained about 500 gallons of fuel, according to officials at the scene. Granite City firemen arrived to aid Granite City Steel in fighting the fire but were initially told the steel company firemen could handle the problem with their pump.

City firemen returned to the main fire station but were called back a short time later as the steel company's pump ran low on water. Firemen braved 3-degree weather and strong winds in fighting to save the engine.

A police report noted there was fuel leaking from the engine when city firemen arrived. Most of the day was spent by workmen cleaning up the spilled steel and returning the large engine to its tracks.

A Granite City Steel spokesman said a train of several cars loaded with ingot molds weighing 16 to 24 tons each was being pushed by a small switch engine from the basic oxygen furnace to the old open hearth furnace building to cool.

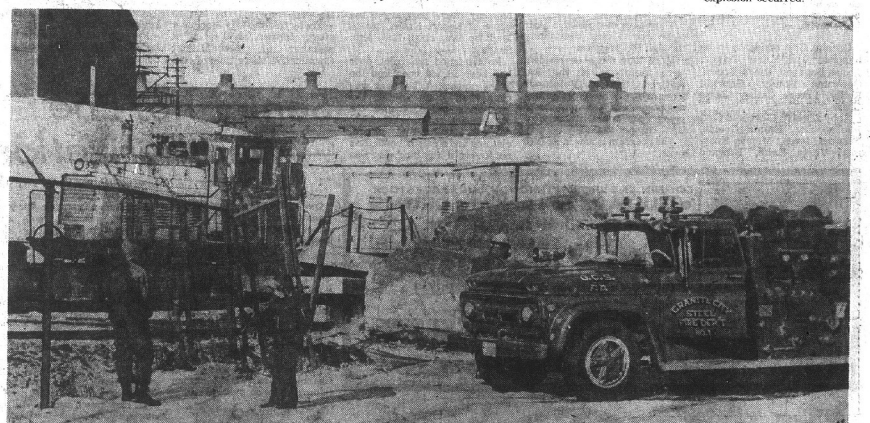

The larger engine was pulling boxcars west from the Omaha Street area at a point where the two tracks merge into one track.

The leading end of the train of ingot molds was pushed into the larger engine, causing two ingot molds to fall, the spokesman said.

Cause of the accident is under investigation, he added.

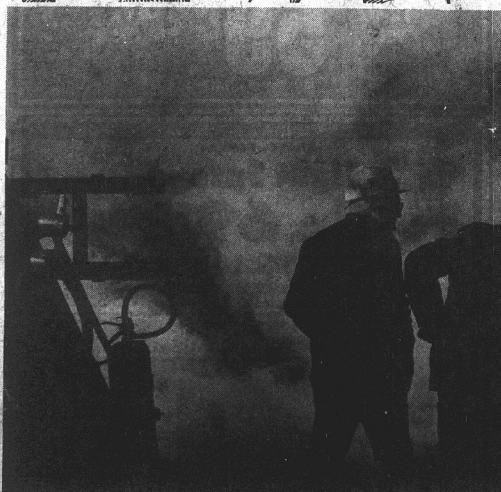

The explosion broke four windows at the home of Rufus Conreux, 2002 E. 20th St., and caused several items to fall from the walls, he told police. He said his house may have been damaged by the blast.

Police blocked 20th Street from Lee Avenue to Park Avenue most of the morning as a precaution, but no second explosion occurred.

TWO-TRAIN ACCIDENT at Granite City Steel Friday morning as firemen brave extreme cold to save the engine in the center of the photo (the cab is obscured by steam). The engine at the left had been pushing cars filled with ingot molds of molten steel when the lead car struck the side of the larger engine as the tracks joined and two ingot molds were knocked off and spilled the red-hot steel.

STRATEGY SESSION as Granite City Steel firemen discuss ideas for cooling spilled ingots of molten steel threatening to destroy a derailed train engine at the right. The engine and a train of ingot cars being pushed by another engine collided near 20th and Omaha streets Friday morning.

Granite City firemen were summoned to aid the firefighting effort and damage was minor. Explosion, as the molten steel touched the snow, broke several windows in a half-block area.

COLD BATTLE AGAINST HEAT as firemen attempt to cool two ingot molds full of molten steel which spilled during a two-train accident. The hot steel threatened to destroy the engine at the right, which had been derailed when struck by the ingot mold train. Clouds of steam rose in the 3-degree air. The ingot molds, weighing about 20 tons each, can be seen in the steam between the fireman and the engine.

Some uptrend in inflation likely

Inflation, which had been easing lately, is expected to pick up slightly in 1978, averaging 6 1/2 percent, due to rising energy and food costs and a widening in the labor compensation-productivity gap, Prudential economists forecast. They place much of the blame for the gap on the cumulative effects of faltering growth in investment.

A big and increasing proportion of capital spending is for replacement of worn-out plant and equipment and to meet health, safety and pollution control requirements.

Moreover, business is presently investing with caution due to uncertainty caused by the "awesome" number of major new governmental policy proposals — energy, taxes, social security, welfare and others — that have come on the scene within a short span of time, the economists said.

They are confident that as these uncertainties are resolved, the investment sector will begin to strengthen.

However, their estimate of a 12 1/2 percent increase in 1978 in business spending for new plant and equipment, to a $208.5 billion total, is less than the 14 1/2 percent gain recorded this year.

This implies that real outlays, adjusted for inflation, should rise 5 1/2 percent next year, with a gradual change in the pattern of expenditures toward more construction, especially new stores and commercial buildings.

Inventory investment, expected to grow appreciably in line with sales, is pegged for a $21 billion accumulation during the coming year, compared with $18.5 billion in 1977.

The report predicts that consumer spending will continue to be a sustaining force behind the economic expansion in 1978, rising 9 1/2 percent to $1,220,000,000,000 after a 10 1/2 percent jump this year. Real after-tax personal income will make another gain of about 4 percent.

The forecast warns, however, that taxes will take a considerable bite due to (1) the interaction of highly progressive income tax rates and inflation which pushes families into higher brackets, and (2) a substantial jump in social security taxes.

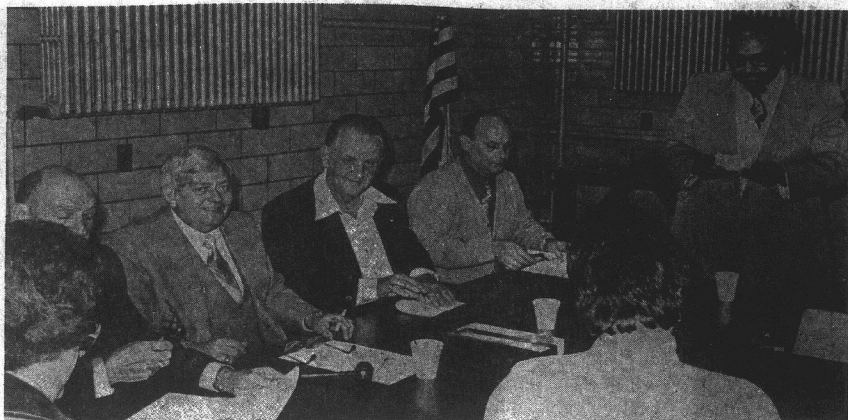

A shift in consumer spending emphasis from automobiles to housing — related outlays is foreseen in 1978. Auto sales will drop slightly to 11 million units (including imports) from 11.2 million this year, while money spent on home furnishings and appliances will rise briskly in lagged response to soaring residential construction, it is believed.

Nineteen Hundred Seventy Seven was a banner year for residential construction, as housing expenditures rose 33 percent. The 1978 increase will slacken to 12 1/2 percent, but next year's almost 1.9 million units in private housing starts will still be significantly above the 1.5 million registered in 1976.

While acknowledging that the powerful and extended upsurge in 1-4 unit construction is at an end, the Prudential economists are optimistic that it will be offset somewhat by a continuing upswing in apartments, as potential landlords are encouraged by plummeting vacancy rates and prospects for rising rents.

Despite rising construction costs and shortages of skilled construction laborers in some places, the forecast sees no sign of a serious downturn in the construction area. It predicts that "strong momentum in residential investment should continue for some time as the high volume of starts is converted into dollar construction outlays."

Federal government spend-

TENSE SMILES cross the faces of members of the Metro-East Sanitary District Board as Robert Eastern, standing, is allowed to participate in a meeting Monday, at East St. Louis, despite objections from Board President Russell Robinson of Granite City, facing camera second from the left. Eastern was reappointed by St. Clair County to serve as a trustee, despite a state law which should give Eastern's seat to a Madison County appointee. Eastern has filed a suit contending the law giving three trustees seats to the county with the higher assessed valuation and two to the lower assessed county is unconstitutional. Madison County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer appointed Walter Greathouse to Eastern's seat on Friday. The sanitary board's attorney suggested both appointees should be allowed "to participate" in the meetings, pending the court disposition of Eastern's suit. From left are Chief Clerk Helen Christich, Trustee John Erhardt, Robinson, Trustees Omar Brummitt, Leonard Hylla, and Eastern.

ding on goods and services (excluding transfer payments and grants-in-aid) is expected to rise 12 percent to $164 billion, due largely to the recent 7 percent wage boost for federal employees and a further substantial pickup in defense procurement.

State and local government expenditures should rebound from a below average increase (8 percent) in 1977 to 11 1/2 percent and a $279 billion total next year. This boost reflects the substantial inflow of federal grants-in-aid funds for public works projects and public service employment.

Net exports remain a weak sector of the economy, showing a deficit pegged at $9.5 billion in 1978, a slight improvement on this year's $10 billion deficit.

Huge oil and petroleum products imports will still be a major problem, although 1977's substantial hike in non-petroleum imports is not likely to be repeated in 1978, it is predicted.

While grain deals with Russia and China are possibilities, U.S. agricultural exports will be constrained by large grain crops in most producing countries and relatively low prices.

Meanwhile, U.S. nonfarm exports will benefit from a gradual improvement in the economies in Canada, Western Europe and Japan. The U.S. also should soon begin to gain some competitive trade advantages from the falloff in the value of the dollar.

Overall, the economists see "considerable room for further economic expansion in the United States."

They prescribe a slowdown in federal government outlays, an easing of the tax burden of individuals and business, and encouragement of job-creating investment as means for realizing this potential.

CONGRATULATIONS are offered by Metro-East Sanitary District Trustee Omar Brummitt, left, to Russell Robinson of Granite City, who was re-elected the sanitary district's board president during a meeting in East St. Louis Monday. Brummitt congratulated Robinson for "a splendid job" during the past year and said Robinson earned another year as president. Robinson said he appreciated the confidence placed in him by the board, noting, "This is probably the best board the district ever had. I appreciate the way the two counties have gotten along together."

Crossing project approved by DOT

The Illinois Department of Transportation has approved plans of the Consolidated Rail Corp. for repair and improvement of the tracks and signaling system on Niedringhaus Avenue, Granite City. Council members were informed last week.

Melvin B. Larsen, DOT engineer of local roads and streets, said in a letter that the estimate of cost of $51,170 for the proposed work has been approved.

The work is planned by the railroad in a crossing improvement project that will call for widening Niedringhaus Avenue in the area of the tracks.

Enyart seeks Congress post as Republican

Hugh Enyart, O'Fallon, a retired Air Force major who is national vice-president of the Air Force Association, is announcing his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Congress in the 23rd Illinois District.

Enyart, 51, who is in the insurance business, is a veteran of 22 1/2 years in the Air Force. He resides at 112 Ruth Drive, O'Fallon, with his wife, Carolyn, a Cahokia school teacher.

He comments, "We must move boldly in the fields of foreign policy and national defense. We should remove gas and oil price controls to stimulate exploration and lessen our reliance on foreign supplies."

Enyart proposes ending suspended sentences. He urges mandatory, lengthy prison terms for convicted criminals.

The candidate says he would seek income tax reduction, improved school methods and facilities, and public aid only for the needy, excluding those who "voluntarily elect to receive welfare."

Budget hearing set

The Chouteau Town Board of Trustees last week decided to hold a public hearing to amend the Town Fund and Road and bridge budgets so that unbudgeted money received recently could be spent.

The public hearing was set for 7 p.m. Monday, Jan. 9, in the new town hall and community center building. About $60,000 in Anti-Recession Fiscal Assistance funds are to be put in the town fund under the heading "health care field."

The township plans to purchase eyeglasses, hearing aids and other health aids for residents who need them. About $3,600 has been received from the anti-recession program, thus far, and about $1,200, $1,800 is anticipated as the program continues.

The road and bridge fund will be amended to add $1,560 to the appropriation for materials. The funds were recently received under a flood relief program.

The township has been trying several years to receive the funds, which are a reimbursement for work highway department employees did during flooding on Chouteau Island in 1972.

Lions study building project

A building committee was appointed by Pontoon Beach Lions Club President Richard G. McIntosh and approved by the club's board of directors at a meeting Thursday.

McIntosh said the purpose of the committee will be "to investigate and explore the possible building sites or buildings for the future home of the club."

"We are not planning any sudden moves, we just want to prepare for the future," McIntosh said.

Those appointed to the committee were Vice President Larry J. McKee as chairman, with Lions Bob Barton, George Goodwin, Billy Houston and Ed Finnazzo as members.

At other business of the board of directors meeting, the Lions voted to contribute $500 towards the Village-Lions Santa Claus Christmas Candy Project. The Lions and the Village of Pontoon Beach will share the $500 cost of purchasing the candy that Santa will give to the children of the community when he makes his annual walk through the village on Friday, Dec. 23, beginning at dusk.

The Lions Village officials, Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department, Pontoon Beach Police Department, Pontoon Beach Police Explorer Post 265 and the Lions Club of Pontoon Beach also assist in the community project by escorting Santa through the village and helping him distribute the bags of candy to the children.

The Lions also voted to contribute $50 to the Granite City Lions Club Cut-A-Thon which was held Sunday at the Captains Clipper and to contribute $50 to the Madison Lions Club current fund-raising project.

The club also voted to make donations of $25 each to Madison County Retarded Children's Development Center, United Cerebral Palsy Fund, Salvation Army Tree of Lights Campaign and the Illinois Lions State Band Fund. Out of the sight conservation account, the club approved the expenses for the cost of eye examinations and glasses for two local teenage girls from underprivileged families.

Lion Donald D. Patrick, public information officer, announced that the club will hold its annual Give-A-Can Drive on Saturday, Dec. 17, beginning at 1 p.m. The Lions go door to door through the village, collecting canned goods which will be distributed to needy families for Christmas.

The Pontoon Beach Co-Ordinated Youth Services distribute the canned goods along with clothing and toys to local needy families.

The Lions also will be assisted by the Starched Skating Center, Sherman's Market, Leroy's A & J Market, Boy Scout Troop 146 and the Lions Club on the Lions-Go-Ordinated Youth Christmas Basket Project.

The club members and Lionesses will attend the Edwardsville Lions Club Christmas party to be held at the Edwardsville Moose Lodge in Edwardsville Tuesday.

Advance planning, auto maintenance aid winter driving

Prof. Archie H. Easton thinks it might be a good idea if the snow belt states could trade their year-end climate with someplace south of the equator. Many Quad-Cityans might agree after last week's siege of ice and snow.

The problem, as Easton sees it, is that our worst winter weather usually strikes at the same time the Christmas and New Year's holiday season descends and winter travel is at its peak.

Since swapping climates is a highly impractical dream, Easton's second choice is to swap some tested, practical winter driving tips with local drivers.

Winter driving problems are an area Easton knows well. He served for many years as chairman of the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards and has participated in its annual test programs since 1947.

Until recently, he has been director of the University of Wisconsin's Motor Vehicle Research Laboratory and is an internationally known consultant on motor vehicle accidents and accident reconstruction.

In September, he returned from East Java, Indonesia where he was involved with analysis of motor vehicle accidents and traffic safety. With such a background, there's hardly any type of weather condition that Easton hasn't experienced first hand.

In Easton's words, "Engine tune-ups and good vehicle maintenance can be critical factors in getting through the winter months without mechanical failures that can lead to traffic jams and accidents."

"First and most importantly, have your engine tuned by a competent mechanic. A tune-up should include inspection of the electrical system, timing, points, plugs and the emission control devices on late model cars."

"This will reduce fuel consumption, while at the same time assure dependable starting at low temperatures and fewer stalls in traffic. For a complete safety check, include inspection of the braking, steering, suspension, lighting and cooling system."

In addition to the safety check, Easton urged drivers to also heed the following equipment recommendations that have been developed by the National Safety Council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards:

HEATER-DEFROSTER SYSTEM—must clear fog and frost off your windshield rapidly, and keep it clear. If it is not functioning properly, check the thermostat or adjustments to the control mechanism. Your check should also include the rear window defroster if your vehicle is equipped with one.

WINDSHIELD WIPERS—may have dried out in summer heat. Live replacement blades are inexpensive and do a better job in wiping away slush and snow without streaking.

TIRES—good tires are important all year long, but especially so on snowy and icy pavements. Snow tires provide additional pulling power in loosely packed snow. Studded tires, where legal, improve steering and pulling ability on ice.

TIRE CHAINS—reinforced tire chains still remain the ultimate traction aid in deep snow or glare ice conditions. Keep them in your trunk for severe weather conditions.

LIGHTS—must be in perfect working order. Check for and replace burned-out bulbs and broken or cracked lenses. Winter grime and road salt corrode sockets and reflectors. Clean all light lenses frequently during inclement weather.

BRAKES—the most important item with respect to braking is the type of application. The pumping or "fanning" type of application will permit better steering control. Avoid continuous lock-up of the wheels.

On the topic of emergency kits, Easton reminded motorists of the following items: a shovel, a container of sand or rock salt, a tow chain, battery booster cables, blankets, emergency flares and lights.

"Remember," he concluded, "taking the nightmares out of winter driving requires common sense approaches by all drivers—proper maintenance and planning today to head off tomorrow's driving dangers."

McPike to seek major road work

"The basic question year after year in transportation is not how much money will be spent but where will it be spent. This year, Chicago is getting the roads and downstate will pay for them," State Rep. Jim McPike (D, Alton) warned during the weekend.

In May, Mayor Michael Bilandic of Chicago Governor James Thompson agreed to build one leg of the Crossstown Expressway, a roadway that Chicago had been unable to fund for four years under Gov. Danell Walker.

"To pay for it, $150 million of new transportation bonds had to be authorized by the General Assembly. Of this, $100 million was targeted for Cook County and $50 million was to be split by the other 101 counties in Illinois."

"Together with $100 million in state funds, Chicago would get $800 million in federal funds, but it was a $1 billion package."

"I oppose the measure but a number of downstate legislators voted for it. Requiring 107 votes, it received 106 votes and became law."

"The downstate legislators who voted for it sold out their constituents for their own pet legislation. Chicago received the cake and we received the crumbs," McPike charged.

"A number of major projects need funding in the 56th District: completion of the Bern Highway, relocation of Route 143 through Wood River, the Bellini extension from Alton, widening of Route 140 from Bethalto to Hamel, relocation and widening of Route 157 from Schwartz Street in Edwardsville to the SIUE intersection, the railroad overpass in Granite City, resurfacing of Route 3 from Interstate 70 to Venice, and rebuilding of Route 111 through Washington Park."

"I will continue to fight for our fair share of the transportation budget so that the projects in the district can be funded," he concluded.

Dolls ready to bring Christmas holiday joy

PIQUANT EXPRESSION (left) on this tiny clown's face, framed with bright red hair, is really a white painted mask over the doll's actual features. The idea is that of Rosemarie Verdu, 27 Arlington Drive, who dressed the doll in blue brushed wool with fluffy pompoms in green, pink and yellow and matching patches on the pant legs.

Shoveling snow can trigger heart attack

More frequently than in some December's here, Quad-Cityans are being confronted often with snow and ice.

Millions of U.S. householders are faced with clearing walks and driveways for access to the street.

It's hard for the American male to accept, but doctors say the chances are that the lady of the house is in better physical condition than her office worker husband for clearing away the season's snowfalls.

An hour or two of daily pushing mop and broom keeps milady in good shape for snow shoveling. It is contended. Snow shoveling requires a lot of energy and muscle. Pushing a stalled auto out of a snow bank is even more demanding.

Once again, the American Medical Association is reminding men of middle age and beyond, especially those who are overweight and lead sedentary lives, to "take it easy" in clearing away the snow from walks and drives.

"If you're in reasonably good health, snow shoveling may actually be good exercise — if you take it easy."

"This could mean getting up half an hour earlier on the morning of a fresh snowfall, to allow time for leisurely shoveling, with frequent brief rest periods.

"The frantic, hurried approach to clearing the drive in an effort to get to the office on time most definitely is not good for health."

"Most common serious health results of overexertion from snow shoveling are heart attacks.

"If your physical condition is such that you are already prone to heart attack, the extra exertion can trigger it. If your heart is sound, it likely won't be damaged."

"Unless you have had a recent checkup, however, you cannot be certain that you aren't a likely candidate for heart trouble."

"Take it easy. Don't be ashamed to invest in a machine that blows or scrapes aside the snow, with the power of a small engine substituting for muscle power."

"Or don't hesitate to hire the neighborhood lad from down the street to shovel your walks."

"Snow shoveling can be good for you, if you use common sense."

"Light exercise and fresh air in the winter are important to maintaining health. Just don't overdo it."

Arrest 2 in stabbing case

Granite City police are holding a 28-year-old Washington Park man and a 24-year-old man from Lemay, Mo., in connection with the stabbing of Tom C. Moore, 24, of 3209 Maryville Road, at the International House of Pancakes, Nameoki and Pontoon roads, at 12:25 a.m. Saturday.

Moore was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with a cut to his back near his right shoulder and a small cut on his neck.

Moore told police he and another man were seated at a booth when two men entered and one came over to Moore and swung a hand past Moore's neck.

Moore felt his neck and discovered he had been cut, he told police. The assailant and a companion then left the restaurant and Moore's friend said, "Let's get them," and started for the door. Moore said he got to the door before his friend, blocked his exit and warned him the men had a knife. While Moore was keeping his friend from leaving, the assailant returned to the outside of the doorway and stabbed Moore from the back, it was related.

Police found the two suspects among a group of people in the parking lot talking. Three women with the suspects were released without charges being filed.

Moore was taken by Granite City ambulance to the hospital. The two suspects were held in the Granite City jail this weekend, pending the approval of charges by the Madison County state's attorney's office said, "Let's get them," and

UNIVERSITY CLUB restaurant at SIUE. It changes theme and menu yearly, currently emphasizing a "safari" look in club decorations and in the attire of student workers. Ethnic music frequently adds to the atmosphere.

'Safari' theme at university

Bill Crabb, director of food service at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, stresses that the University Club restaurant offers not only views of sunsets but professionalism in service.

"Food Service has an obligation to the student body beyond just feeding them," Crabb says.

He feels the restaurant acquaints students with fine food and service and helps them gain confidence in dining out.

"The restaurant has been the winner of eight awards for its menu and its unique approach to offering varieties of food, which have ranged from barbecued pig snout to beef shish kebab."

"These various entrees introduce students to delicacies they may not find in most fast-food operations."

"Last year, the University Club restaurant won a national award for its menu and advertising. The menu and theme are changed every year."

"Ideas are usually suggested by the patrons and adapted for restaurant usage."

"The current theme is the 'safari' look, which includes decor, attire and a unique dining menu."

"Students have played an active role in the services of the restaurant. During periods when special menus are used, such as International Days, the student workers in the restaurant dress in the attire of the country being featured, and ethnic music is provided by student groups on campus or from the surrounding communities."

The restaurant strives for excellence in its service as well as its entrees and offers students an opportunity to have meals prepared at table-side," Crabb relates.

He believes that by acquiring confidence in dining out, students will learn to appreciate "fine foods." That is the goal of the University Club restaurant.

Pat Bowles, restaurant manager, hopes the public also will "take the opportunity to dine in a friendly atmosphere and relax to the playing of soft piano music while enjoying a beautiful view of the countryside."

Serving time is from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 4 to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday.

News notes

The Illinois Department of Registration and Education, which licenses 500,000 Illinoisans in 33 different professions, trades and occupational groups, last week announced a new program of unannounced, on-site inspections of its licensees. Inspections will seek to determine how well the people licensed and regulated by the department are performing under their licensing requirements.

Secretary of State Alan J. Dixon continues to advise motorists that their old 1977 vehicle license plates should be destroyed or retained while they are still valid. It is now legal to display the new 1978 plates, he says, but care should be taken that the 1977 plates are not discarded carelessly. Every year, his office receives numerous complaints from owners who receive overtime parking tickets credited to valid old plates thrown away prematurely after new plates had been installed.

Sportsmen planning to hunt Canada geese in the four-county quota zone can receive up-to-date information on hunting conditions by telephoning the Canada Goose Hotline at 633-8711. The recorded message is updated twice weekly and gives the population and current harvest figures.

Gov. James Thompson has released $3.1 million in capital development bond funds to launch a major new effort in food production and research known as Food for Century III. The funds will be used to improve expanded agricultural education and research facilities at the University of Illinois and at Southern Illinois University, aimed at development of ways to increase food production.

Governor James Thompson has urged a Congressional delegation visiting Illinois to begin work immediately with President Carter to form a national policy on handling of nuclear wastes. "Illinois' willingness to cooperate (in the area of nuclear dumping) threatens to make the state the dumping ground for the nation," Thompson's letter said. "I won't permit Illinois to be viewed as the solution for the failure of the federal government to develop a national policy on use and disposal of nuclear material or the failure of other states to provide similar sites," he said.

ON THE MOVE. Tom Newman, a Granite City Township employee, transfers a file cabinet drawer from a van into the new building of the township located on Delmar Avenue at 21st Street Thursday afternoon. Most of the files of the old office were transferred to a new filing facility designed to hold more files in much less space. The office began operations at the new building this morning.

LARGE AUDITORIUM with a capacity of 600 persons is seen Thursday afternoon during moving operations at the new Granite City Township office from its former location at 1808 State St. The new offices and auditorium are on Delmar Avenue at 21st Street. A fully equipped stainless steel kitchen is adjacent to the auditorium. The Senior Citizens Center and the offices of the Special Education Region also are housed in the new facility.

Seek added school funds

Changes in the state aid formula which would provide school districts with an additional $90 million next year were proposed Thursday by State Superintendent of Education Joseph M. Cronin at a meeting of the State Board of Education.

The provisions would: (1) increase the maximum amount of aid a school district receives for each student from $1,260 to $1,300 per year; (2) reduce the qualifying tax rates to enable more school districts to gain access to the maximum amount of state aid; and (3) change the annual increase limit on state aid for a school district from 125 to 135 percent.

The Citizens Commission on School Finance last year recommended revisions in the school aid formula. "Now is the time to consider revisions for the 1978-79 fiscal year and the 1979 session of the legislature," Dr. Cronin said.

His proposals will be considered as part of the overall state education budget for the next fiscal year. The board began discussion of the proposed $2.3 billion budget Thursday.

A public hearing will be held at the Illinois Office of Education in Springfield on Jan. 4, 1978.

Final adoption of the budget is scheduled for the Jan. 12 board meeting.

In addition Thursday, the board adopted its official position on federal legislation. Notice of the board's position on ten specific issues will be forwarded to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the U.S. Office of Education.

Included among the positions taken by the board are recommendations that:

1. The Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1974 be amended to ensure that Title I eligible children — shifted from one attendance center to another to facilitate desegregation — do not lose the Title I dollars allocated to the original attendance center.

2. A Department of Education be established to be headed by a cabinet-level secretary and that all federal agencies concerned with education be consolidated within this department.

3. That Congress expand adult education programs for the unemployed, migrants, handicapped adults, minorities, women, blue collar workers and elderly.

4. The number of required reports and forms be consolidated by HEW and the Office of Management and Budget.

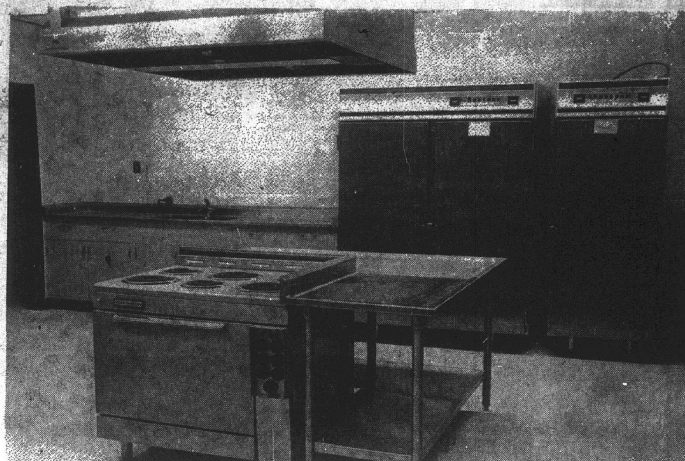

In other state board business, three members of the Textbook Advisory Committee reported on results of a survey on the Illinois textbook loan program. The program, initiated by the IOE in 1976, has provided books for 656,000 students in the State in grades kindergarten through three.

According to Committee Chairman Ben Hubbard, 84 percent of the districts which participated in the program said they felt it was "good or excellent." Only three percent of those responding were opposed to the program, he said. It is expected that the textbook program will be extended through grade four and upper levels in 1978-79.

The board also adopted its annual report, detailing the year's major activities and accomplishments.

During 1977, the board completed a major study of school finance, successfully implemented the new free textbook program, and secured $10 million more in federal special education funds.

STAINLESS STEEL KITCHEN adjacent to the 600-capacity auditorium in the new Granite City Township building is fully equipped with electric range, oven, refrigerator, freezer and substantial work counters. The new offices and hall are located at Delmar Avenue and 21st Street. Also located in the building will be the Senior Citizens Center and the offices of the Special Education Region, now located at 2801 Madison Ave.

Veterans numerous at local area college

More than four-and-a-quarter million dollars annually is pumped into the economy of this region by veterans attending Belleville Area College.

That is the figure given by Director of Veterans' Services John Silvester in discussing the importance of the GI Bill to local veterans and their families as well as to the economy. The BAC district includes the Quad Cities.

Silvester says the $4,250,000 is paid directly to veterans, going immediately into the economy. But, he continued, the most important effect is the long-range good for the veteran in raising his earning potential.

He quoted VA Administrator Max Cleland as saying that "for each dollar spent in educational benefits, it has been estimated that the federal government has received from three to six dollars in additional tax revenue from veterans whose education has given them increased earning capacity."

Belleville Area College has one of the largest per capita

The college has recently been chosen by the Veterans Administration for vocational counseling and testing.

A full-time veteran's representative works with Silvester in seeing to the needs of area veterans who are interested in returning to school. Ken Fish, who is an employee of the VA, cooperates closely with Silvester and his staff to try to advise all veterans of their educational benefits.

Many ex-servicemen still have unused GI benefits, and Illinois veterans whose benefits have expired may still receive free tuition under Illinois Veterans' Scholarships.

The veterans' office at Belleville Area College, 2500 Carlyle Road, is open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday and until 4 p.m. each Friday.
